

Military Says War Spreading to Thailand

By BOB HORTON

EGLIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP) — U.S. planes are now bombing Communist infiltration routes into Thailand from Laos, military sources report.

These same sources say: —The Communists have sought to counter the raids by positioning antiaircraft guns and surface-to-air missiles in the extreme northeastern corner of Thailand.

—Some American planes have been shot down over Thailand although there has been no official statement on the losses.

These disclosures, made Wednesday by officers here, appear to indicate a worsening insurgency situation for the Thais, confronted more and more with Communist penetration of their borders.

The problem has required some American actions similar to early U.S. efforts in South Vietnam, the officers said.

He declined to be specific but said the actions involve U.S. air commandos in Thailand.

However, the U. S. Embassy in Thailand categorically denied today that U. S. Air Force planes are bombing Communist infiltration routes into Thailand.

An embassy spokesman said no U.S. armed forces of any kind were carrying out bombing missions on Thailand soil. "No U.S. planes have been lost to hostile fire from within Thailand," he added.

He was commenting on a report that Communists had positioned antiaircraft guns and surface to air missiles in northeast Thailand. The report said some American planes had been shot down on missions against terrorists in Thailand.

"The U. S. Embassy has no knowledge of any Communist antiaircraft weapons or SAM missiles located in Thailand," the spokesman said.

Eglin AFB is a major Air Force Tactical Command facility where air commandos—Air Force counterparts to the Army's Green Berets special forces—are trained.

Earlier last year the Pentagon acknowledged U.S.-flown helicopters were being used to ferry Thai troops into the northeast section for counterinsurgency operations.

But the Pentagon said then that U.S. pilots were under strict orders to avoid involvement in combat and would be

Five Marines Die in Viet Bomb Error

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese gunners hit the U.S. Marine forward post at Con Thien Wednesday with the heaviest artillery barrage in more than two months and probed a nearby Marine position with a ground attack.

In the same area just below the demilitarized zone, a Marine fighter-bomber supporting the ground troops accidentally dropped a bomb on the perimeter of American positions and added to the U.S. casualties.

The barrage of 276 rounds of artillery and mortar fire and the ground probe by an estimated company of North Vietnamese killed seven Marines and wounded 77, the U.S. command said. The accidental bombing killed another five Marines.

The Marines reported killing three North Vietnamese. Headquarters said the artillery barrage included 60, 82 and big 120mm mortar and 85mm artillery rounds. A spokesman said it was the heaviest barrage since Sept. 25, when Communist gunners slammed more than 1,000 rounds of artillery and mortar into Con Thien, which was under virtual artillery siege during the entire month of September. The Marines suffered nearly 1,000 casualties then. Simultaneously on Wednesday, units of the 4th Marine Regiment 2½ miles northeast of Con Thien came under a four-hour attack by an estimated company of perhaps 150 North Vietnamese who opened up with small arms, machine guns and bazooka-type rockets. Marine fighter-bombers, artillery and drove the Communists off.

The United States countered with two raids by B52 bombers above and below Con Thien, naval gunfire from destroyers off shore and strikes by tactical fighter-bombers against the Communist gun positions and supply routes.

In one raid today, the eight-engine B52s dropped thousands of pounds of bombs on roads and military facilities 30 miles above the DMZ which feed men and supplies to the 35,000 North Vietnamese troops believed to be threatening Con Thien and other Marine outposts below the frontier.

In a second raid today, the big bombers pounded the Communist buildup areas four miles west-southwest of Con Thien. U.S. Air Force, Marine and Navy jet fighters also hit scores of targets just inside North Vietnam Wednesday in a concentrated effort to cut supplies heading south to the frontier.

The Navy reported that the destroyer Leary knocked out one artillery and one mortar position and touched off two secondary explosions and a fire in the southern portion of the demilitarized zone.

Other action flared in the critical northernmost areas of South Vietnam. Communist gunners fired 35 mortar rounds into a Marine unit six miles south of Hue, the old imperial capital which is 60 miles south of the zone. Six Marines were killed and six were wounded.

Just to the southeast of the big Marine base at Da Nang, two Marines were killed and 13 wounded when Communist patrols made two grenade attacks on a small base camp early Wednesday.

But 40 miles south of Da

Nang, 38 of the 40 members of a Viet Cong platoon surrendered at a South Vietnamese government outpost, saying that after a year of almost continuous fighting they were weary of war, feared death and lacked food.

Confirm Cong Try At Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department acknowledges an apparent Viet Cong attempt to contact the U.S. mission in Saigon. At the same time U.S. sources say privately the Viet Cong has been in recent touch with the U.N. secretariat in New York City.

Robert J. McCloskey, department press officer, said Tuesday that Prime Minister Nguyen Van Loc of South Vietnam has informed Washington the Viet Cong representative arrested in Saigon last week was attempting to reach the U.S. Embassy.

Department officials have said privately the National Liberation Front (Viet Cong) approached the U.N. Secretariat last October, apparently to ask for a U.N. hearing.

McCloskey said the only reason he made any statement on the Saigon incident was to clarify what he called misleading stories quoting Loc as saying the Viet Cong had already made preliminary contact with the embassy.

No information was released to pinpoint the identity of the Viet Cong agent, to detail what he told South Vietnamese police during interrogation sessions or to indicate the precise nature of the Viet Cong had already made preliminary contact with the embassy.

State Department officials also said they wouldn't comment on whether the United States is trying to find out from the Viet Cong what their representative wanted to talk about. "We can go on trying to nail jelly to this tree all day," McCloskey said after many questions, "but I have no comment on this."

Secretary of State Dean Rusk also was asked about the Saigon incident and replied: "I do not have anything more on that than has been said and that is very little."

The State Department announcement dovetails with the official U.S. denial last week that embassy officials and Viet Cong representative met or planned to meet.

But the Heart Stopped Suddenly

NEW YORK (AP) — Four grim men pushed their way into the small, crowded auditorium in the basement of Maimonides Hospital in Brooklyn. They had been up all night.

"I think, first of all, I'm sorry to have to report to you that we have bad news, not good news."

The speaker, Dr. Adrian Kantrowitz, 49, disclosed Wednesday that his 22-man medical team had failed in the second attempt in four days to transplant a human heart. The transplant of the healthy heart of a dead two-day old boy into the breast of a 2½-week-old boy was completed but the child died 6½ hours later.

"Really, it was quite unexpected," Dr. Kantrowitz said. The boy was doing "reasonably well," he said, but then the heart "stopped suddenly."

"We do not know at this time why this transplanted heart failed," he said.

Dr. Kantrowitz described the attempt as "unequivocally, a failure but said he and his team are planning to try such transplants again.

He insisted the attempted transplant had no connection with the South African operation four days ago in which the healthy heart of a 25-year-old woman killed in an automobile accident was successfully transplanted into a 55-year-old gro-

Dr. Kantrowitz said. Officials at Maimonides sent telegrams to 500 American hospitals seeking a suitable donor.

The older boy had already been born at the hospital but he had a defective valve on the right side of his heart which could not be operated upon.

Then, Monday, the younger child was born in Philadelphia with brain damage that would kill him in two or three days.

With the consent of his parents, the newborn was rushed to Brooklyn. When he died the medical team began the 24-hour operation. The drama ended at 1 p.m. with the older child's death.

In Capetown, Louis Washkansky left his sterilized room today for first time since historic transplant operation four days ago replaced his failing heart with a healthy one.

Washkansky, in the second day of a week-long critical period during which his body may attempt to reject the alien heart, was wheeled on a bed more than a quarter of a mile through Groote Schuur Hospital to the radiotherapy department for a cobalt treatment intended to prevent rejection.

He was returned to his room 40 minutes later. He received cobalt treatments in his room Tuesday and Wednesday from a hastily built portable radiation device.

Until today, the 55-year-old wholesale grocer had been kept isolated in an oxygen tent because the radiation and drugs designed to overcome body's tendency to reject foreign substances also leave him more susceptible to infection.

Doctors said there has been no sign so far of "immunological rejection" of the heart transplanted Sunday from a 25-year-old woman killed in an auto crash, but they kept a minute by minute watch on the patient.

Dr. Christian Barnard, who headed the team that operated, told newsmen Wednesday he believes Washkansky's body will continue to accept the new heart.

Washkansky's own heart had been expected to quit this week. But Dr. Barnard said the patient may go home in three weeks if he keeps up his steady improvement. He said Washkansky would be better off at home because "hospitals are where germs are found, and the chance of infection would consequently be greater."

President Attends Rites for Spellman

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson flew to New York and attended funeral services for Francis Cardinal Spellman. With the President were his roving ambassador, W. Averell Harriman, Postmaster General Lawrence O'Brien and White House staff members.

The President was expected to return to Washington immediately after the funeral services.

Nine cardinals participated today in the two-hour funeral service for Francis Cardinal Spellman at St. Patrick's Cathedral.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey also joined ranking civic leaders and leading clergy of four faiths at the funeral rites.

There are more than 2,200 seats in the cathedral. Officials of the Roman Catholic archdiocese of New York said almost all were for invited officials with tickets.

The service began with a block-long procession into the church of hundreds of Catholic, Protestant, Jewish and Orthodox leaders.

A solemn pontifical requiem Mass followed and absolutions and interment in the crypt below the high altar concluded the rites.

The services climax five days of mourning for the prince of the church who died Saturday at the age of 78 after heading the richest Roman Catholic see in America for 28 years.

The archdiocese said almost 250,000 persons paid their last respects in a nearly constant stream since the cardinal's body was placed on a purple draped catafalque Sunday.

At last midnight, a line of mourners two blocks long waited six abreast to enter the cathedral and file past the bier. Among those paying their respects Wednesday was former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

The last of numerous services was attended in the afternoon by 2,500 members of the armed forces paying a last tribute to their fallen chaplain. The cardinal was the first American churchman to hold the post of military vicar or bishop to Roman Catholic servicemen.

Pearl Harbor Anniversary

Two Area Men Recall the Day of Infamy

By HUGH REYNOLDS

Dec. 7, 1941: One man thought it was a training exercise, the other thought it was an earthquake.

"When I saw the Arizona go up I knew it was no training exercise," Edward Martin of 5 Chestnut Street, Rolling Acres, said today recalling the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor 26 years ago.

Al Fassbender of River Road, Port Ewen, was in bed at Schofield Barracks, outside of Honolulu, when the Japanese planes roared in shortly after 8 a. m. that Sunday morning. "We'd been talking about the possibility of an earthquake just the night before," Fassbender said. "Then I saw the smoke from Pearl Harbor and the sky filled with Japanese planes. It was no earthquake."

Both Were 20

Both men were 20 years old on the day of the attack. Martin was a first class petty officer stationed aboard the cruiser St. Louis. Fassbender was a private serving with Company M of the 19th Division.

The two did not know each other on that "Day of Infamy," having met four years ago through the Pearl Harbor Survivors Association. Martin enlisted in January of 1939. Fassbender had been in the service only nine months, having enlisted in late February of 1941. Pearl Harbor added years to their service careers, as it did millions of other Americans.

Martin, in particular, was a "short timer." "I was getting ready for a ship back to the States on the 14th for discharge," he said.

Martin reenlisted, subsequently serving until March of 1948 and was discharged as a chief petty officer. Fassbender wound up serving 45 months in the Pacific Theater and was discharged in 1946.

Complete Surprise

The two were asked their reactions on that Dec. 7. Fassbender: "It was a complete surprise. They had to come over Schofield Barracks to get to Pearl. On the way they bombed Wheeler Field which was right next to us. Maybe 10 of our planes got off the ground. Most were destroyed. They didn't bomb the barracks but they made strafing runs. Not too many of our men were hit. The sky was full of Japanese planes."

Martin: They came in at all levels. There were bombers at 10,000 feet and torpedo planes at water level. They came first. I think it was the torpedoes that got the Arizona. I've read where there were two attacks but from the deck of the St. Louis it looked like one continuous raid. They just kept coming and coming. Pounded hell out of us."

Last year both men returned to Pearl Harbor for the 25th anniversary of the attack sponsored by the Survivors Association. Fassbender met no one he knew from that day. Martin celebrated with seven survivors off the St. Louis.

Their reactions to the memorial ceremonies? — Impressive. Said Martin, "The rites began at about 7 a. m. Precisely at 8:05 a formation of jets roared over just like in '41. It really brought back memories."

Arizona Memorial

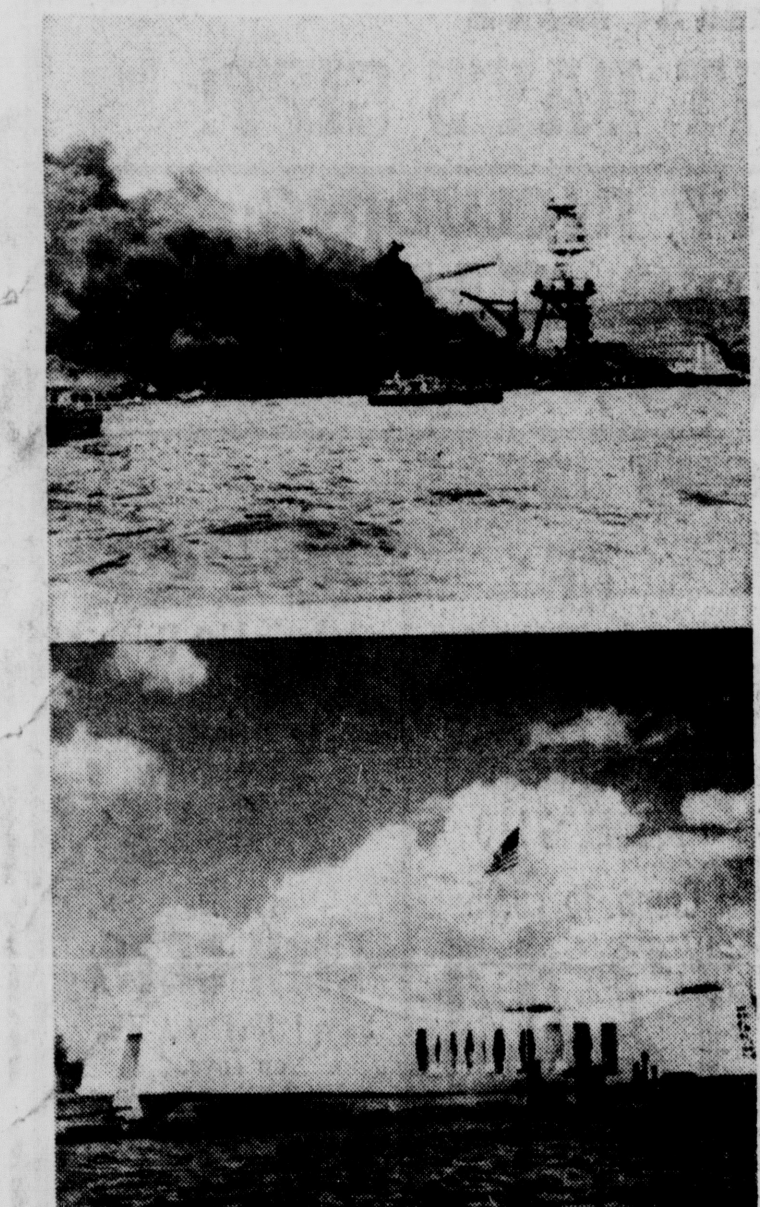

Fassbender: "We visited the Arizona Memorial where 1,177 men are entombed. Oil from the ship still comes to the surface." Today, Ed Martin is a manager at IEM. Al Fassbender is an automobile mechanic. They have nine children between them. Martin has three, Patricia, 21; Linda, 17 and Wendy, 11. Fassbender's six include Margaret, 20; Al Jr., 19; John, 14; Lucille, 13; Robert, 8 and Colleen, 6.

No Bitterness

Neither man expresses bitterness after 26 years. Says Martin, "I've worked with Japanese at IBM. No problems. Says Fassbender, "It happened a long time ago. But I think the motto of the Survivors Association is still pertinent. Remember Pearl Harbor, Keep America Alert."

The Pearl Harbor Survivors Association State Convention will be held at Grossinger's this weekend. Fassbender will attend. Martin will not. Plans will be drawn up for the 30th reunion in 1971. Both men hope to make it.

Cancer Registry Gets Funds

The quarterly payment of a $4,000 grant to the Ulster County Registry given by the American Cancer Society was accepted this week by Dr. Milton M. Grover Jr., vice president of the county unit. Mrs. John Krom is registrar of the local facility.

The registry is currently operating at the Tumor Clinic and was set up to collect data on patients with cancer and to record the symptoms, treatment and causes of the disease to enable physicians to evaluate the efficiency of treatment and compare results in other communities.

Information was first recorded in the Cancer Registry the last week of August of 1965. The information included all pertinent facts concerning cases dating from January of 1964. In May 1967 when the first annual report was made the number of cases reported for the year 1965-66 numbered 212. Between May 1966 and January 1967 the number of cases recorded numbered 616. As of December 6, 1967 the number of cases in the registry is 984.

Dr. Grover expressed sincere appreciation to the Ulster County Tumor Clinic, Kingston Hospital, and the Benedictine Hospital for their cooperation in the detailed and thorough reporting of facts for the registry files. The Ellenville Hospital signified their interest and willingness to participate in the registry and will soon be able to report valuable information for the records.

Establishment of the Cancer Registry was made possible through the generous public support of the annual Cancer Crusade.

Woodland Man Ruled Suicide

Ulster County Coroner William S. Keyser today ruled the death of Albert P. Hallenbeck, 48, of Woodland Valley, Phoenicia, a suicide and said death was due to massive cerebral hemorrhage resulting from self-inflicted gunshot wounds.

Kingston State Police BCI Investigators Fred Grunewald and John Salters and Sergeant Joseph Ellsworth investigated with Coroner Keyser after the body was discovered in Hallenbeck's home by Town Constable Thomas Smith at 9:45 p. m. yesterday.

Authorities said Hallenbeck evidently shot himself in the head with a .30 caliber rifle at 10 a. m. Wednesday. They said the man had been despondent because of personal problems.

MATTOON, Ill. (AP) — "The Prairie State," once the scene of miles of prairie untouched by scythe and torch, may have a tiny prairie preserve staked out.

For the past 10 years, a Southern Illinois University botanist, Robert Mohlenbrook, has been taking students to a mile-long strip of virgin prairie he found along the Illinois Central Railroad tracks between Carbondale and Urbana. About 40 yards wide, the patch of prairie lies beside a stretch of a roadbed abandoned in a highway relocation project. The university is entering into a $1 a year lease agreement with the railroad to maintain and preserve this piece of the found along the Illinois Central Prairie State.

QUARTERLY PAYMENT — Dr. Milton M. Grover Jr., vice president of Ulster County Unit, American Cancer Society, accepts check representing a quarterly payment of $4,000 grant given to County Cancer Registry facility. With Dr. Grover are Mrs. John Krom, (C), registrar and Mrs. Paul Wendrow, executive director of the local unit. (Freeman photo by Haines).

Cancer Registry Gets Funds

The quarterly payment of a $4,000 grant to the Ulster County Registry given by the American Cancer Society was accepted this week by Dr. Milton M. Grover Jr., vice president of the county unit. Mrs. John Krom is registrar of the local facility.

The registry is currently operating at the Tumor Clinic and was set up to collect data on patients with cancer and to record the symptoms, treatment and causes of the disease to enable physicians to evaluate the efficiency of treatment and compare results in other communities.

Information was first recorded in the Cancer Registry the last week of August of 1965. The impartation included all pertinent facts concerning cases dating from January of 1964. In May 1967 when the first annual report was made the number of cases reported for the year 1965-66 numbered 212. Between May 1966 and January 1967 the number of cases recorded numbered 616. As of December 6, 1967 the number of cases in the registry is 984.

Dr. Grover expressed sincere appreciation to the Ulster County Tumor Clinic, Kingston Hospital, and the Benedictine Hospital for their cooperation in the detailed and thorough reporting of facts for the registry files. The Ellenville Hospital signified their interest and willingness to participate in the registry and will soon be able to report valuable information for the records.

Establishment of the Cancer Registry was made possible through the generous public support of the annual Cancer Crusade.

Anti-Intrusion

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. (AP) — Electronic security equipment that will detect unauthorized persons entering or leaving restricted areas will be installed at a federal prison for the first time.

A test system is being installed at the Federal Correction Institution at Lompoc, Calif.

The system, put in by the Western Division of Sylvania Electronic Systems, is called a balanced transmission line. It resembles a fence of horizontal metal pipes inserted through vertical wooden posts.

Electrical currents within the pipes unite to create a balanced electromagnetic field several feet wide. An approaching person disturbs the field, causing the system to set off an alarm. Only the presence of bodies weighing more than 40 pounds that approach from either side are detected.

Inside Job

VALDOSTA, Ga. (AP) — Tony Gillard, who was working out a fine of $54 at the city jail, faced another indictment.

The county grand jury said he tried to pay part of his fine with vending machine funds it said he stole from the police department.

The Beat At City Hall

By HUGH REYNOLDS
Freeman City Hall Reporter

BURIED IN the smoke and gas surrounding the new city hall issue is one stark fact: Kingston owes a million dollars for its share of urban renewal Downtown.

It works out to an eighth of the almost eight million dollar tab for Broadway East. The city can pay it in one of two ways or combination of both: Cash or Credit.

The latter can be met with city-built facilities. For instance, Kennedy School is considered a partial credit since some of the children from Broadway East are students there. A new city hall would work the same way.

A few thoughts on a new city hall. Nothing ever appears simple or logical once it enters the hands of our city fathers.

City Hall

Take city hall. First of all they might have tried deciding if they needed a new city hall at all. Word has reached this column that a prominent Kingston architect, through the Chamber of Commerce, had offered to survey the old hall and give an estimate of its repair. This generous offer was made some time ago but was either rejected, or, most likely, ignored.

The next step, we would think, if the architect had been allowed to survey the old building, would be to decide if it were adequate for the city's needs, not just now, but 50 years hence.

We have to agree with Mayor Garraghan that the old place is crowded. Hizoner says there's about 9,700 feet of usable space and he needs about double that.

For the purpose of argument, let's say the city needs another 8,000 square feet for its municipal offices. We're still not talking about a new city hall.

Cost should now enter in. Would it be cheaper in the long run, to remodel city hall or build a new one?

Cost Estimate

The mayor has come up with cost estimates on repairing city hall that run into the hundreds of thousands of dollars. Garraghan may be a talented man in some fields but he's hardly qualified when it comes to construction estimates.

And so his proposal for a new city hall Downtown went to the city's think tank, the Common Council. The best laid plans of Garraghan invariably get fouled up in the Council. Just the name of the committee was enough to cool some aldermen. They called it The Mayor's Committee for a New City Hall Downtown and it was chaired by Joe Epstein in whose ward the new hall would probably be built.

Garraghan's idea to let the council in on his plans was a good one and the contract Epstein's committee drew up with the New York City planning firm was also a good one. The contract called for a dual study, cost of remodeling city hall or cost of building a new one. It was called a space study and a representative of the company promised little more for his $7,500 fee.

If the study had been completed the city would have known by March just how much space it needed, and its cost, regardless of where it was. Very simple. Dollars and cents. Black and white.

Mayor Vetoes

Garraghan, after signing the resolution, vetoed it. He wanted a new city hall Downtown and if these space study people weren't going to design one for him, forget it.

The whole deal now looks kaput. Actually, we thought Ray was doing fine on his city hall plans until he got stubborn and insisted on a Downtown site.

Location

That, to our thinking, was the last logical step: location. Most aldermen didn't want to be committed to a Downtown site, or any site, for that matter. They're right. There's some solid arguments for Downtown but there's also some good arguments for Midtown and Uptown.

There's been plenty of arguments on this subject and they'll be plenty more, mainly because no one bothers to define their terms. One point needs no explanation: the city owes a million dollars for urban renewal. Argue about that, boys. A million dollars.

Antiwar Demonstrators Plan New Tactics in Target Areas

NEW YORK (AP) — Antiwar demonstrators, outnumbered and outmaneuvered by police in two attempts to disrupt the downtown armed forces induction center, say they have new tactics to try.

Leaders of the demonstration, in a meeting Wednesday night to assess their lack of success, blamed plainclothes police infiltrators in their ranks with causing confusion and giving contradictory orders.

Spokesmen for the sponsoring Stop the Draft Week Committee said the new tactics today could include dividing the demonstrators into small groups and picketing any of 100 "targets" throughout the city related directly or indirectly to the draft.

Police Increase

Although the demonstrators Wednesday doubled their Tuesday turnout to 2,000, the police had increased their own forces to maintain about a 2 to 1 numerical edge and the resulting rows of bluecoats left the generally young marchers no place to go.

When their forays at the center were foiled some of the frustrated marchers took off on a four-mile trek uptown to the Waldorf Astoria hotel where Secretary of State Dean Rusk was speaking.

Later the group moved on to Grand Central terminal where they milled about chanting slogans and then to the United Nations headquarters on the East River. Police physically broke up the crowd there and the protest was finished for the day.

Elsewhere in the nation the pace of protests sagged after a flurry of activity early in the week. Some 300 demonstrators converged on the placement center at California State College at Los Angeles forcing two Dow Chemical Co. recruiters to flee through a back window.

With red ink they daubed slogans on the administration building saying "Freedom Now" and "Hell No. Nobody Goes." College President John Greenlee blamed off-campus agitators but said participating students and faculty members would be disciplined.

Iowa Investigation

In Johnson County, Iowa, County Atty. Robert W. Jansen said a full scale investigation would be made of Tuesday's disturbance at the University of Iowa where police used tear gas to break up a protest against Dow recruiters.

Iowa Gov. Harold Hughes said Wednesday night that "peaceful demonstrations are one thing but disruption of normal university life is another" and called for "stern disciplinary measures" against demonstrators who break the law.

The New York City demonstrations started Tuesday when 1,000 demonstrators massed and 264 deliberately had themselves arrested. They included pediatrician Dr. Benjamin Spock and poet Alan Ginsberg.

In Wednesday's protest the participants seemed less anxious to be arrested and police reported only about 40 seized during the day.

After police turned back the attempt to approach the center from three different directions the demonstrators regrouped in Battery Park. Leaders were divided on the next move.

Some militants proposed an invasion of Wall Street while others argued for a march on City Hall and then peaceful dispersion.

The evident frustration was voiced by one speaker who asked: "How did we get in a position where there is only this choice of being impotent or brutalized?"

At the Waldorf, Rusk departed from his prepared text to tell some 1,200 members of the National Association of Manufacturers that what they did not see among the demonstrators outside "was a representative of Hanoi ready to talk about peace."

Goldberg Mulls U.N. Departure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg is considering resigning soon from his post as top U.S. representative at the United Nations.

Goldberg has discussed his resignation with President Johnson and it is understood that Johnson is agreeable to his desires.

No Timetable

But Goldberg has not submitted his resignation formally, according to information available here, and no time has been set by him and the President for him to leave his post.

Goldberg spent Wednesday in Washington, attending a Cabinet meeting and conferring with administration officials.

Afterward it was learned he had talked with the President on several occasions, going back some time about ending his career at the U.N.

Goldberg, 59, has been Johnson's ambassador to the world organization since July 1965. He has told friends he does not consider himself a career public official and is understood to have been interested in returning to the private practice of law, probably in New York.

However, there has also been speculation he might be returned to the Supreme Court by the President when a vacancy develops there. Goldberg left the high court at the President's request to take the U.N. assignment following the death of Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson. He earlier served in the Cabinet of President John F. Kennedy as labor secretary, bringing to that job years of experience as a lawyer and negotiator in the labor field.

Dissatisfaction Noted

Goldberg is known in government circles and at the U.N. as a "dove" on issues arising out of the Vietnam war and there have been reports from time to time he was dissatisfied with administration handling of war policy problems.

On several occasions Goldberg has been the spokesman for U.S. statements defining Vietnam war and peace aims and calling on North Vietnam to negotiate.

Recently, in congressional testimony, he announced the United States is prepared to have representatives of the National Liberation Front, political arm of the Viet Cong in South Vietnam, invited to attend U.N. Security Council discussions of peace-making problems.

Antiwar Demonstrators Plan New Tactics in Target Areas

NEW YORK (AP) — Antiwar demonstrators, outnumbered and outmaneuvered by police in two attempts to disrupt the downtown armed forces induction center, say they have new tactics to try.

Leaders of the demonstration, in a meeting Wednesday night to assess their lack of success, blamed plainclothes police infiltrators in their ranks with sowing confusion and giving contradictory orders.

Spokesmen for the sponsoring Stop the Draft Week Committee said the new tactics today could include dividing the demonstrators into small groups and picketing any of 100 "targets" throughout the city related directly or indirectly to the draft.

Police Increase

Although the demonstrators Wednesday doubled their Tuesday turnout to 2,000 the police had increased their own forces to maintain about a 2 to 1 numerical edge and the resulting rows of bluecoats left the generally young marchers no place to go.

When their forays at the center were foiled some of the frustrated marchers took off on a four-mile trek uptown to the Waldorf Astoria hotel where Secretary of State Dean Rusk was speaking.

Later the group moved on to Grand Central terminal where they milled about chanting slogans and then to the United Nations headquarters on the East River. Police physically broke up the crowd there and the protest was finished for the day.

Elsewhere in the nation the pace of protests sagged after a flurry of activity early in the week. Some 300 demonstrators converged on the placement center at California State College at Los Angeles forcing two Dow Chemical Co. recruiters to flee through a back window.

With red ink they daubed slogans on the administration building, saying "Freedom Now" and "Hell No. Nobody Goes." College President John Greenlee blamed off-campus agitators but said participating students and faculty members would be disciplined.

Iowa Investigation

In Johnson County, Iowa, County Atty. Robert W. Jansen said a full scale investigation would be made of Tuesday's disturbance at the University of Iowa where police used tear gas to break up a protest against Dow recruiters.

Iowa Gov. Harold Hughes said Wednesday night that "peaceful demonstrations are one thing but disruption of normal university life is another" and called for "stern disciplinary measures" against demonstrators who break the law.

The New York City demonstrations started Tuesday when 1,000 demonstrators massed and 264 deliberately had themselves arrested. They included pediatrician Dr. Benjamin Spock and poet Alan Ginsberg.

In Wednesday's protest the participants seemed less anxious to be arrested and police reported only about 40 seized during the day.

Part of the failure of the demonstration appeared to stem from the different philosophies of the 40 participating groups ranging from pacifist to mili-

After police turned back the attempt to approach the center from three different directions the demonstrators regrouped in Battery Park. Leaders were divided on the next move.

U.S. Mum on Vietnam Discussion in U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States kept silent today on plans to seek U.N. action on the Vietnam war amid an apparent U.S. South Vietnamese split over whether to invite the Viet Cong to participate.

A spokesman for the U.S. delegation said no instructions had been received from the White House since the Senate approved a resolution last Friday calling on President Johnson to seek U.N. help to end the war.

Johnson told a news conference Monday that the resolution would be sent to the State Department and U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg for their "reactions" before any steps are taken.

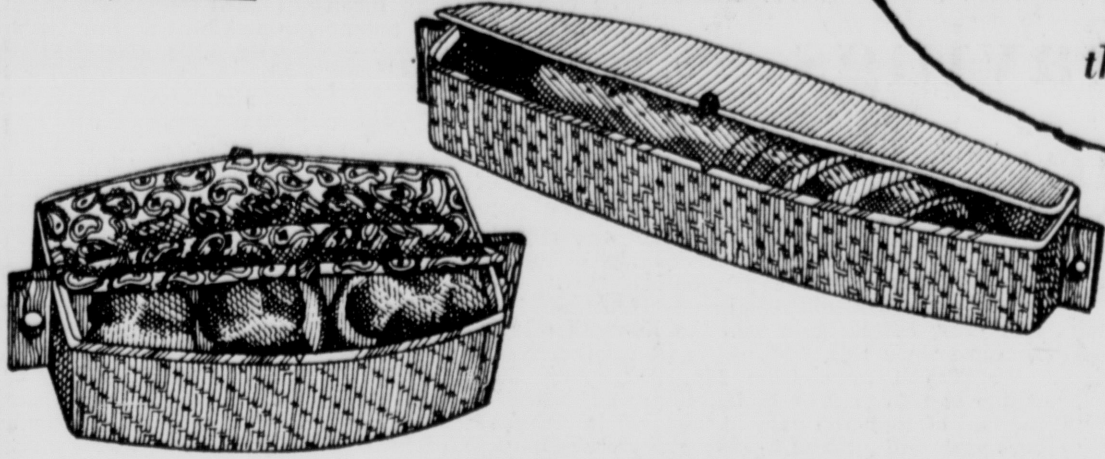

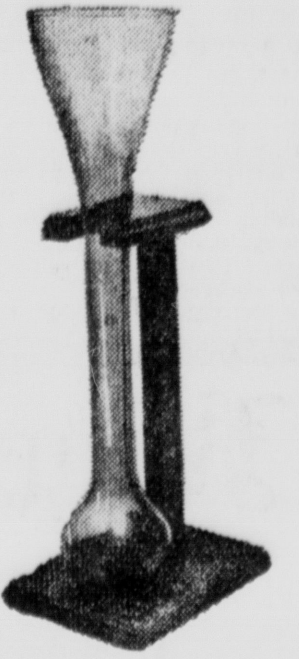

Questioned about the prospects of the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front taking part in the proposed Security Council debate, the State Department recalled Goldberg's telling the Senate Foreign Relations Committee a month ago the United States "would not stand in the way of any group, including the NLF, being invited."

Says Farm Operators Averaging Younger

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department said today a broadly held belief that farmers are getting older than self-employed people in other occupations is not true for large farms.

"If anything," a farm population study said, "farmers in the expanding sector of the farm economy tend to be somewhat younger than other self-employed workers."

The department divided the

Move to Halt Adulteration

WASHINGTON (AP) — Peanut butter, says the government, really should contain peanuts, not lots of them.

Noting a "trend by some manufacturers in recent years to reduce the peanut content" in peanut butter, the Food and Drug Administration proposed a federal standard to assure at least a 90 per cent peanut content in each jar.

Interested parties have 30 days to submit comments on the proposal. After that the FDA will issue an order.

Revealed at Forgery Seminar

Museum's Horse Is Fake

NEW YORK (AP) — The Metropolitan Museum of Art says its famous bronze horse, long considered a masterpiece of ancient Greek art, is a 50-year-old fake.

The museum startled 800 patrons attending a seminar on art forgery Wednesday night when it revealed for the first time that the horse it regarded as "the quintessence of the ancient Greek spirit" was merely a famous fraud.

The horse was probably cast in Paris shortly after World War I rather than in Greece around 470 B.C., the museum said.

The 15-inch statue purchased by the museum in 1923 was even acclaimed by the Encyclopedia Britannica for its beauty and grace. It was so famous and popular that several thousand plaster casts were made and sold. They are still on sale.

The museum doesn't know who the forger was but a thin line and a couple of holes gave him away, said James V. Noble, Metropolitan vice director for administration and the man who saw through the whole thing.

The line was a filed-down mold mark which proved the horse was cast in a process not developed until the 14th Century.

One of the holes was for an iron or bronze spike used on life-sized statues to chase birds away. It's unneeded on a 15-inch statue, Noble said. The other hole was for a bridle attachment but it was too far from its proper spot, Noble explained.

He first made these deductions in 1961, immediately took the horse off the museum floor and began an investigation that ranged through museums around the world.

1967 Savings Hit Their Peak

BY JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — It now seems certain that for the entire year 1967 the American consumer will have saved more money than in any other year in history.

The amazing total of $37.8 billion a year, based on the present savings rate, results not just from the growing number of consumers and constantly rising income, but also because the ratio of savings to income is sharply higher this year.

Ratio Highest Since '58
So far in 1967 the ratio is 7 per cent, the highest for any sustained period since 1958, when fewer consumers existed and much lower wages prevailed.

In 1966 the total was $30 billion. And in 1965, when the savings rate was a more normal 5.8 per cent of disposable income, the total of personal savings was only $27 billion.

Using the 7 per cent ratio it is quite easy for any individual to assess his comparative standing, simply by multiplying his after-tax income and inserting two decimal points.

If you, as an individual or as one of the nation's 50 million heads of family, had after-tax income of $5,000, for example, you would have had to save $350 to keep pace. If your disposable income was $8,000, your savings would be $560.

It remains for historians to analyze this unusually conservative behavior, which began to develop along with inflation, rising interest rates and tight money last year, and which has a corollary in the housewife's revolt against high food prices.

It requires no analyses, however, to uncover the consequences of this change. Retail sales have grown at a rate less than expected. Car sales have been sluggish. Installment credit has risen only slowly. Debt repayment has been swift.

The consumer has proved, in other words, that with his discretionary financial power—he can greatly influence the course and fluctuations of the economy.

It is perhaps only partly a coincidence that after the housewife attacked the grocer last year food prices began to stabilize. Retail prices have risen 3 per cent since then, but food prices have gone up only one-tenth that percentage.

Credit Energizing Fuel
The wide use of consumer credit has been one of the fuels energizing the post-World War II economy. The expansion in its use has, literally, amounted to a revolution in American attitudes and living habits.

Gone, for example, is the old ethic that said what is purchased must first be won with toil. The attitude now is quite opposite: buy now and pay later with income from your work.

Household indebtedness therefore, has continued to rise almost inevitably increasing in every year since 1946 and now approaching $400 billion. It was $35.1 billion in 1946.

During this same time consumer credit alone has risen from $8.4 billion to $95.9 billion September of this year. Such a huge increase means a powerful momentum has been built up for even further increases.

Nevertheless, the conservative replaced as soon as enough Thai chopper pilots had been trained. The United States has undertaken a major buildup in Thailand the last few years with total American strength now exceeding 35,000 men, including some 1,000 air commandos. The commandos help train Thais in counterinsurgency operations.

Earlier this year both the U.S. and Thai governments acknowledged for the first time that many American air attacks on enemy supply lines and positions in South Vietnam were originating from Thailand bases. Nothing was said about bombing inside Thailand.

Since then, B52 bombers have been moved from Guam to Thailand to cut flying time to targets in South Vietnam as well as Laos.

The Air Force is reserving the B52s for the bigger operations in Vietnam and is sending World War II vintage B26s—now designated A26s—on the Thai bombing runs.

Officers here say U.S. pilots—not Thais—are piloting the bombing flights along the northeastern border of the country. They indicated the raids have been under way some time using A26s supplied to Thailand last year.

tive pattern of recent months has made its dent even in this powerful trend. The expansion of installment credit continued this year, but its gain was the smallest since 1961.

Whereas it grew from $87.9 billion in 1965 to $94.8 billion at the end of 1966, the gain in the past year will amount to only a bit more than $1 billion, a tremendous slowdown.

Cora Baird Of Puppet Team Dies in Gotham

Cora Baird, who with her husband Bil, gave life and voice to the puppet characters known as the Baird Marionettes, died Wednesday night in New York after a long illness. She was 54.

The Bairds were well known in Ulster County in the late '50s when they maintained a studio at Woodstock. In 1959 they moved their base of operations to Greenwich Village where in addition to preparing television and theater productions, they operated the Bil and Cora Baird Puppet Theater.

The Bair creations gained national acclaim with full length television shows such as Art Carney Meets Peter and the Wolf which charmed audiences during the holiday season in 1958.

The former Cora Burlar was an actress in the cast of Dr. Faustus, an Orson Welles production when she met her husband in 1937.

After their marriage they teamed as puppeteers, supplying marionettes for half a dozen Broadway shows and dozens of TV productions. They also worked supper clubs before television brought them to national attention.

the largest mass surrender so far in the war.

U.S. Headquarters said the defectors ranged in age from 15 to 46 years and included the platoon commander, the platoon sergeant and a 15-year-old female nurse. A spokesman said they brought five weapons with them and later led units of the U.S. 196th Light Infantry Brigade to a small munitions cache.

Some of the defectors said they had wanted to surrender for some time but couldn't because of North Vietnamese troops in the area.

The mass defection was a welcome shot in the arm to the U.S.-South Vietnamese Chieu Hoi—or Open Arms—program to attract defectors to the government side. The number of defections has been dropping for several months after a big spurt at the beginning of the year. It dropped to its lowest level of the year during the week ending Nov. 17, when only 217 Viet Cong came over to the government. There were 611 defectors this year's total probably will be slightly less than 30,000 defections, 10,000 more than last year's total of 20,242. But it will be far less than the 45,000 defections forecast by officials earlier in the year.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The farm operator population into two general classes. One, called today a broadly held belief that farmers are getting older than self-employed people in other occupations is not true for large farms.

"If anything," a farm population study said, "farmers in the expanding sector of the farm economy tend to be somewhat younger than other self-employed workers."

Move to Halt Adulteration

WASHINGTON (AP) — Peanut butter, says the government, really should contain peanuts—lots of them.

Noting a "trend by some manufacturers in recent years to reduce the peanut content" in peanut butter, the Food and Drug Administration proposed a federal standard to assure at least a 90 per cent peanut content in each jar.

Interested parties have 30 days to submit comments on the proposal. After that the FDA will issue an order.

Revealed at Forgery Seminar

Museum's Horse Is Fake

NEW YORK (AP) — The Metropolitan Museum of Art says its famous bronze horse, long considered a masterpiece of ancient Greek art, is a 50-year-old fake.

The museum startled 800 patrons attending a seminar on art forgery Wednesday night when it revealed for the first time that the horse it regarded as "the quintessence of the ancient Greek spirit" was merely a famous fraud.

The horse was probably cast in Paris shortly after World War I rather than in Greece around 470 B.C., the museum said.

The 15-inch statue purchased by the museum in 1923 was even acclaimed by the Encyclopedia Britannica for its beauty and grace. It was so famous and popular that several thousand plaster casts were made and sold. They are still on sale.

The museum doesn't know who the forger was but a thin line and a couple of holes gave him away, said James V. Noble, Metropolitan vice director for administration and the man who saw through the whole thing.

The line was a filed-down mold mark which proved the horse was cast in a process not developed until the 14th Century.

One of the holes was for an iron or bronze spike used on life-sized statues to chase birds away. It's unneeded on a 15-inch statue, Noble said. The other hole was for a bridle attachment but it was too far from its proper spot, Noble explained.

He first made these deductions in 1961, immediately took the horse off the museum floor and began an investigation that ranged through museums around the world.

For Food Baskets

Committee Will Clear Names

Lawrence Siewers, president of the Ulster County Council of Social Agencies, has announced that again this year a committee will be in charge of clearing the names of all needy families that are receiving food baskets for Christmas.

For the past few years this has been done so that each family will receive only one basket, making it possible for every needy family having a Christmas dinner.

Although every year there are more organizations, clubs and groups who do submit their list, even if it's only one basket, the committee knows there are still some who do not participate and last year it came to their attention that several families received two baskets while some clubs went far beyond their limit to take care of everyone.

Hoping this year to receive everyone's cooperation, a committee has been appointed. William Stopher, Port Ewen, will be in charge of clearing all the names. Stopher, a retired telephone company worker, did this job last year and can be reached at all times.

Assisting Stopher will be Brigadier Major Jacob Hohn from the Salvation Army and Mrs. William Krum, Ulster County Social Agencies and

Mrs. Augustus Parker, City Republican committee.

Organizations who have given in the past include Elks Lodge BPOE 550, Knights of Columbus, St. Ursula's Mothers Club, Ulster County Democratic Women's Club, Benedictine Hospital employees, Kingston Hospital employees, Salvation Army, Volunteers of America, Boy Scouts, Spring Street Lutheran Church, American Legion Post 150, St. Joseph's Mothers Club, employees Round-out National Bank, Republican City Committee.

Joining the list this year will be St. Mary's Rosary and Altar Society. "Again we are stressing the importance of all groups to clear names and to help make this a happy Christmas for all our needy families," a spokesman concluded.

First 3 Months of 1968

43rd Accident Prevention Campaign Set

Leading industrial safety experts comprising the Associated Industries of New York State, Inc. safety committee met in Oriskany Wednesday to complete plans for the Association's 43rd annual accident prevention campaign, one of the nation's largest.

Included on the safety committee are Clifford Burris, safety manager of the IBM corporation in Endicott and Stuart G. Mansfield, safety director of Western Printing and Litho Co. in Poughkeepsie.

The campaign will run through the first three months of 1968, terminating with a series of area award dinners throughout the State to honor companies which have achieved outstanding safety performances.

All industrial employers, regardless of size, are eligible. There are 125 industrial categories and five general group classifications according to the number of employees to assure fair competition for the achievement awards given for accident reduction to winning participating firms.

The campaign theme is "Production Efficiency Through Accident Prevention." Thomas F. Spruck, Safety and Industrial Hygiene Department, Corning Glass Works, Corning, is chairman of the committee and Marcel H. Becard, safety director, Marquette Cement Manufacturing Co., Catskill, is vice chairman. Thomas J. Berk, safety consultant, Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, New York, is chairman of the Safety Campaign Subcommittee.

Joseph R. Shaw, Associated Industries president, in a statement said:

"Emphasis in this year's campaign is that occupational injuries are one factor of spiraling production costs that is almost entirely within control of management. Industrial accidents have increased in number per million man-hours worked over the past several years. This increase is reflected in higher compensation costs, production losses, property damage and in many other cost areas." In 1925, when the first Associated Industries' campaign began, the average accident frequency of its participants was 22.5 per million man-hours worked. A steady and almost constant decrease in frequency has been recorded through the years that followed. The average for the 1967 campaign was 6.7. This compares with an average frequency of 12.8 for all manufacturing in the state for 1966 compiled by the New York State Department of Labor.

For Food Baskets

Committee Will Clear Names

Lawrence Siewers, president of the Ulster County Council of Social Agencies, has announced that again this year a committee will be in charge of clearing the names of all needy families that are receiving food-baskets for Christmas.

For the past few years this has been done so that each family will receive only one basket, making it possible for every needy family having a Christmas dinner.

Although every year there are more organizations, clubs and groups who do submit their list, even if it's only one basket, the committee knows there are still some who do not participate and last year it came to their attention that several families received two baskets while some clubs went far beyond their limit to take care of everyone.

Hoping this year to receive everyone's cooperation, a committee has been appointed. William Stophor, Port Ewen, will be in charge of clearing all the names. Stophor, a retired telephone company worker, did this job last year and can be reached at all times.

Assisting Stophor will be Brigadier Major Jacob Hohn from the Salvation Army and Mrs. William Krum, Ulster County Social Agencies and

Mrs. Augustus Parker, City Republican committee.

Organizations who have given in the past include Elks Lodge BPOE 550, Knights of Columbus, St. Ursula's Mothers Club, Ulster County Democratic Women's Club, Benedictine Hospital employees, Kingston Hospital employees, Salvation Army, Volunteers of America, Boy Scouts, Spring Street Lutheran Church, American Legion Post 150, St. Joseph's Mothers Club, employees Round-out National Bank, Republican City Committee.

Joining the list this year will be St. Mary's Rosary and Altar Society. "Again we are stressing the importance of all groups to clear names and to help make this a happy Christmas for all our needy families," a spokesman concluded.

43rd Accident Prevention Campaign Set

Leading industrial safety experts comprising the Associated Industries of New York State, Inc. safety committee met in Oriskany Wednesday to complete plans for the Association's 43rd annual accident prevention campaign, one of the nation's largest.

Included on the safety committee are Clifford Burris, safety manager of the IBM corporation in Endicott and Stuart G. Mansfield, safety director of Western Printing and Litho Co. in Poughkeepsie.

The campaign will run through the first three months of 1968, terminating with a series of area award dinners throughout the State to honor companies which have achieved outstanding safety performances.

All industrial employers, regardless of size, are eligible. There are 125 industrial categories and five general group classifications according to the number of employees to assure fair competition for the achievement awards given for accident reduction to winning participating firms.

The campaign theme is "Production Efficiency Through Accident Prevention." Thomas F. Spruck, Safety and Industrial Hygiene Department, Corning Glass Works, Corning, is chairman of the committee and Marcel H. Becard, safety director, Marquette Cement Manufacturing Co., Catskill, is vice chairman. Thomas J. Berk, safety consultant, Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, New York, is chairman of the Safety Campaign Subcommittee.

Joseph R. Shaw, Associated Industries president, in a statement said:

"Emphasis in this year's campaign is that occupational injuries are one factor of spiraling production costs that is almost entirely within control of management. Industrial accidents have increased in number per million man-hours worked over the past several years. This increase is reflected in higher compensation costs, production losses, property damage

Violent Clash Looms for Legislature

By CHARLES DUMAS

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The 1968 session of the Legislature is likely to witness the most violent clash yet between Senate Majority Leader Earl W. Brydges and Assembly Speaker Anthony J. Travia.

Brydges, who runs the Republican-ruled Senate, and Travia, strongman of the Democratic-controlled Assembly, seldom have seen eye-to-eye on legislative policy and do not do so now.

Several Skirmishes

They have fought several skirmishes over isolated issues during previous sessions of the Legislature but have stopped short of all-out political warfare. Persons close to Brydges and Travia report, however, that both legislative leaders are approaching the forthcoming session in a resolutely combative mood.

Both are said to feel that next year's session offers unusually high stakes—a state tax increase is in prospect, major adjust-the proposed new state constitution that New York voters rejected.

Brydges and Travia each is determined to protect the interests of his party to the fullest in the inevitable maneuvering and hard-nosed bargaining required to achieve definitive action on controversial issues in a politically divided body.

In past years, Brydges has fumed quietly over Gov. Rockefeller's inclination to bypass the Senate and deal directly with Travia in settling legislative disputes. Brydges has had enough of that.

During this year's Democratic-dominated Constitutional Convention, in which Brydges served as GOP minority leader, the Niagara Falls lawmaker chafed under Travia's free-wheeling presidency.

Travia's rejection of the revised constitution was interpreted promptly by Brydges as a victory for the Republican view.

It is determined should not be lost on Travia. Assembly Minority Leader Perry B. Duryea will be egging on his fellow Republican. By the same token, Travia was chagrined by his setback at the polls and has assumed a defensive, give-no-further posture.

All Elements There

All the elements of a head-on collision are present, and Capitol observers expect just that.

Rockefeller privately has expressed concern that the infighting will get out of hand.

Even before the Legislature convenes—Jan. 3 is the date—Brydges and Travia have sounded notes of discord.

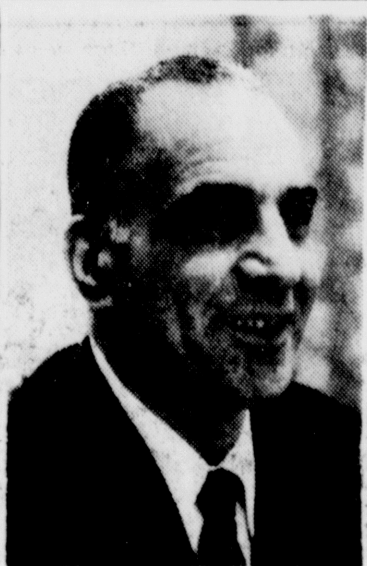

For openers, they disagreed over the constitutional salvage operation. Travia said he would push through the Assembly all of the provisions written into the rejected document. Brydges said this would show contempt for the electorate's decision.

They expressed disparate views on Rockefeller's move toward major tax increases. Travia growled that the governor first should try cutting expenditures. Brydges said he would give sympathetic attention to Rockefeller's proposals.

The two legislative leaders even disagreed on how long the session should run. Brydges said he would like to complete business by mid-April. Travia said a session of six to eight months might be necessary.

Following the usual script, Brydges and Travia can be expected to disclaim any animosities and promise at the outset of the session to work harmoniously in the best interests of the people.

Having disposed of that protocol, the gloves will be off.

Recruit Blames Love for Theft Of Jersey Car

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — A 19-year-old Army recruit who said he was impelled by love to steal a car was free today to resume Army duty, thanks to a sympathetic federal judge.

Michael Nezezon of North Tonawanda pleaded guilty to stealing a car while at Fort Dix, N.J. He appeared before Judge James T. Foley in U.S. District Court.

Nezezon's lawyer told the judge the youth had been in the Army only a few days when he took the car because he was "in love with some young lady and decided he wanted to go and see her."

"Do you want to stay in the Army?" the judge asked Nezezon.

"Yes, sir," the youth replied. "It's nice to hear that these days," said Foley. He suspended sentence and placed Nezezon on probation for three years.

Gets 6 Months For Extortion In Jewel Case

BALLSTON SPA, N.Y. (AP)

— The man who tried to sell information to Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney about the theft of $781,000 worth of jewelry from the Whitney summer home has drawn a jail sentence of six months.

Frank Barnes, 43, a service-station manager from Amityville, was sentenced to six months for attempted extortion of $35,000.

Judge Edward T. Sullivan of Saratoga County Court fixed the sentence after Barnes pleaded guilty last Friday to a misdemeanor charge of trying to extort money by extortion.

Sullivan said Barnes would be credited with the time he already has served in the county jail since the Aug. 12 arrest.

Barnes was arrested by the FBI at a telephone booth near New York's Kennedy Airport and charged with offering information about the jewels for $35,000.

A grand jury indicted him in September.

None of the jewelry stolen from the Whitney's Cady Hill Estate in nearby Saratoga Springs has been reported recovered.

In-Service Programs

Rondout Valley Teachers Evaluate Curriculum Aspects

In the continuing series of in-service programs being conducted in 6 half-day sessions this year in the Rondout Valley Central School District, the teachers of Grades 9 through 12 are covering a wide range of curriculum aspects.

Under the overall supervision of Principal Sherman V. J. Bur and Assistant Principals L. Vertucci, each department has been concentrating on the improvement and implementation of at least one specific phase of its program.

The English Department, program for modified level changes. More emphasis will be placed on actual experimentation and activity and it is hoped to include manuals for this purpose on all levels.

Implementation of an advanced placement course to replace Math 13 is being examined by the mathematics department, Donald Lee, coordinator. Also in work is the improvement of the present curriculum outlines, which involves the determination of what a student should have learned before entering a course and what he should have learned upon completion of a course.

The foreign language department, coordinator Dennis Crowley, is reviewing the entire range of language courses, evaluating texts, examining regents criteria, considering foreign language offerings in the Middle School, and cooperative planning in the presentation of a coordinated cultural program.

Coordinator Mrs. Marian Traver and the business department are also conducting an overall review of department courses, with the emphasis on curriculum for personal and family life instruction, so that all students may benefit from this basic education for living.

The need for more time and facilities for physical education is occupying the attention of physical director, John Meehan and his staff. The department feels that the present class time allotted to physical education falls below state requirements and that the lack of facilities curtail program offerings. These factors are affecting the present and future physical well-being of students, they believe.

New courses for 1968-69 are being worked on by the music department. The guidance department, Arnold Gottesman, coordinator, is working with each department in re-evaluating courses, and reviewing its own organization and procedures in the light of the entrance into the system of the Middle School next year. In addition, they are preparing a booklet for seniors, containing scholarship, award and loan information and planning a basic 9-12 career and vocational choice program.

Development of courses beyond the 11th grade is the present concern of the social studies department. Coordinator Harold Ross. This includes the possible addition of advanced placement courses in American and European History.

Coordinator Mrs. Bernice Jansen and the Science teachers have been re-evaluating the entire science program, reviewing the prerequisites for what a student should have learned before entering a course and what he should have learned upon completion of a course.

The foreign language department, coordinator Dennis Crowley, is reviewing the entire range of language courses, evaluating texts, examining foreign language offerings in the Middle School, and cooperative planning in the presentation of a coordinated cultural program.

The home economics teachers, coordinator, Mrs. Pauline Diekswi, are concerned with team teaching and courses which overlap each other to a considerable extent, primarily in general science, health, biology and social studies. They are extremely conscious of the need to make room in the curriculum for personal and family life instruction, so that all students may benefit from this basic education for living.

The need for more time and facilities for physical education is occupying the attention of physical director, John Meehan and his staff. The department feels that the present class time allotted to physical education falls below state requirements and that the lack of facilities curtail program offerings. These factors are affecting the present and future physical well-being of students, they believe.

New courses for 1968-69 are being worked on by the music department. The guidance department, Arnold Gottesman, coordinator, is working with each department in re-evaluating courses, and reviewing its own organization and procedures in the light of the entrance into the system of the Middle School next year. In addition, they are preparing a booklet for seniors, containing scholarship, award and loan information and planning a basic 9-12 career and vocational choice program.

UFO Sightings Were Recorded in Bible, Ancient Drawings

By ARLEEN ABRAHAMS
AP NEWSFEATURES

"Behold a stormy wind came out of the north, a great cloud with a fire flashing out... and out of the fire came the likeness of four living creatures... they had the likeness of man... and every one of them had four faces and four wings... Their appearance was like coals of fire... and out of the fire went forth lightning. Now as I beheld the living creatures, behold one wheel at the bottom hard by the living creatures, at the four faces thereof... their appearance was like a wheel within a wheel, and their work was as it were a wheel within a wheel, and the four had their rings full of eyes round about... And when the living creatures went, the wheels went hard by them, and when the living creatures were lifted up from the bottom, the wheels were lifted up."

An excerpt from a science-fiction tale? The ravings of a lunatic? An authentic sighting of an extraterrestrial visitor? A vision of God?

In Ezekiel
The speaker is Ezekiel in the Old Testament, Chapter 1, Verses 4, 6, 10, 13-19, describing a landing at the Babylonian Wall in the year 597 B.C.
The Soviet Union, which had previously dismissed reports of UFOs as nonsense, recently set up a special commission to investigate reports of unidentified flying objects.

The U.S. Air Force, plagued by reports of more than 10,000 different sightings since Project Blue Book was established in 1948, gave a $313,000 grant to the University of Colorado in October, 1966, to make an independent study of UFOs. Headed by Dr. Edward Condon, a physicist of international repute, the group's report is due in February, although its recommendations will be reviewed by an evaluation committee from the National Academy of Sciences before being made public, which may not be until next summer. No matter what the report states, the controversy between UFO believers and non-believers is far from settled.

Sightings of UFO's may be as old as history itself. Granite tablets, like a disc, the term flying saucer was coined by an enterprising reporter in Pendleton, Ore., to describe nine objects flying in formation sighted by a Boise businessman in 1947. Sightings usually place these objects in remote areas... swamps, deserts and mountains. Perhaps because no verified reports have ever been made of a spaceship landing in any occupied major city, very few astronomers or physical scientists will readily accept the idea of interplanetary explorers.

Yet, they find it impossible to describe certain observed phenomena... or to simply discount it as hallucination or misinterpretation. For instance, Dr. D. Trombaugh, discoverer of the planet Pluto, has described a disc-shaped object which roared down, comes to a dead stop, and then heads the other way... at immeasurable speeds which would contradict any laws of inertia.

Dr. James E. McDonald, senior physicist at the Institute of Atmospheric Physics and professor of meteorology and climatology at the University of Arizona, is on record as having stated, "the problem of the UFOs is one of extraordinary scientific interest."

Dr. McDonald breaks down any sightings into eight categories.

List Categories

1. Hoaxes, frauds

2. Hallucinations, mass hysteria, rumor

3. Lay misinterpretation of well-known physical phenomena, i.e. comet

4. Space discovery techniques—satellites, re-entry vehicles,

5. Poorly understood physical phenomena, i.e. clouds, rare atmospheric effects
6. Poorly understood physiological phenomena
7. Extraterrestrial probes
8. Messengers of salvation
Although the vast majority of sightings can be accounted for by categories 1 through 6, there is still a sizable residue of unexplained scientific reports from credible observers, Dr. McDonald says. "Category 7 constitutes the least unsatisfactory hypothesis for accounting for the intriguing array of credible reported UFOs that do not appear to fit acceptably into other categories."

Sightings of UFO's may be as old as history itself. Granite drawings, estimated to be 47,000 years old and now at the University of Peking, show people flying in formation sighted by a group of sculpted rocks in the Sahara Desert, traced by the carbon method to the year 6000 B.C., show earth people staring at "human beings" with strange round heads and other mystifying characteristics. And the folklore of many nations mentions the little people, the Irish leprachauns, he Swedish trolls, who appear and then disappear without warning.

Reports since the Middle Ages describe the unexplained space phenomena... or to simply describe certain observed phenomena... or to simply describe certain observed phenomena... or to simply describe certain observed phenomena...

Many Drivers Must Renew Registrations

ALBANY—While most of the New York State vehicle registrations that expire on December 31 are for commercial vehicles, there are several thousand passenger car owners who also are required to renew their registrations this month.

The Department of Motor Vehicles has mailed registration renewal punch card applications to all owners concerned and the cards should be in the hands of those owners within the next several days.

Commissioner Vincent L. Tofany recommends that the owners act on the renewals as quickly as possible so that they may use the mail to obtain their new certificate and stickers. This cannot be done during the last two weeks of the month, if the renewal deadline is to be met.

Renewals for passenger cars and most commercial vehicles may be mailed to the nearest county clerk's office, with the exception of those in New York City and Albany County. In those areas the renewal applications must be sent to Department of Motor Vehicles district offices.

Dealers, transporters and for hire vehicle renewals should be submitted to the district offices early in the month. To remedy this situation, it is suggested that the owner wait until the 15th of the month and, if the punch card still has not arrived, obtain a paper application from any issuing office and use that instead.

When mailing the application, owners should make certain they complete the application, make out a check in the proper amount, and include the renewal stub.

Proof that the vehicle has been safety inspected within the last 12 months also is required. The inspection station stamp should appear on the back of the renewal stub.

VFW Tallies Member Drive At Mid-Point

The 1968 membership drive of Joyce Schirick Post 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Kingston has reached the mid-way mark.

Post Commander Andrew Edge announced today that the total enrolled exceeds 300, well on the way to reaching last year's 637 member count.

Commander Edge said that the Post is asking all qualified veterans to seek membership in the organization. The VFW is the fastest growing veterans' organization in the United States today.

The post extends fully paid memberships to servicemen stationed in Vietnam. Parents or wives may send the serviceman's name and full address to the post, so that these memberships can be mailed directly overseas.

Membership chairman of Joyce-Schirick Post is Junior Vice Commander Vincent Schrader.

COLLECTOR'S ITEMS — Today, men's grooming products are not only more plentiful but packaged in decidedly masculine decanters. Colognes and after-shave lotions are in the Gavel, dueling pistols set (Twenty Pieces), steer horns (Western Choice), Mallard, and booklike (First Edition) decanters. They are part of Avon's "Collector's Series." The cowhide-like box at the left contains "Wild Country" body powder.

Many Drivers Must Renew Registrations

ALBANY—While most of the New York State vehicle registrations that expire on December 31 are for commercial vehicles, there are several thousand passenger car owners who also are required to renew their registrations this month.

The Department of Motor Vehicles has mailed registration renewal punch card applications to all owners concerned and the cards should be in the hands of those owners within the next several days.

Commissioner Vincent L. Tofany recommends that the owners act on the renewals as quickly as possible so that they may use the mail to obtain their new certificate and stickers. This cannot be done during the last two weeks of the month, if the renewal deadline is to be met.

Renewals for passenger cars and most commercial vehicles may be mailed to the nearest county clerk's office, with the exception of those in New York City and Albany County. In those areas the renewal applications must be sent to Department of Motor Vehicles district offices.

Dealers, transporters and for hire vehicle renewals should be submitted to the district offices all over the State. Special registrations, such as initial plates and those for special organizations, must be sent to Albany.

The Department also pointed out it is possible, for one reason or another, that an owner might not receive his punch card early in the month. To remedy this situation, it is suggested that the owner wait until the 15th of the month and, if the punch card still has not arrived, obtain a paper application from any issuing office and use that instead.

When mailing the application, the inspection station stamp should appear on the back of the renewal stub.

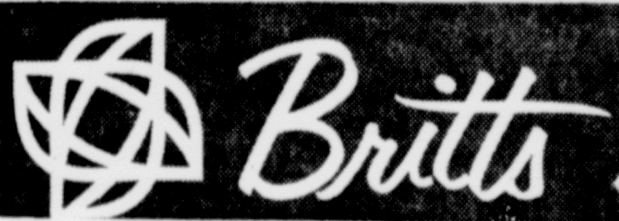

Proof that the vehicle has been safety inspected within the last 12 months also is required. The inspection station stamp should appear on the back of the renewal stub.

Distraught Parents of the Hippies Speak Their Minds Weekly

BY JEAN HELLER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — "I hear other parents talk about how their kids are in college or are doctors and teachers and what can I say? My son's a dirty, rotten social dropout."

It takes courage for a mother to get up in front of people she hardly knows and say a thing like that. But here, every Tuesday night, it happens.

The mother and those who gathered to hear her were parents of hippies. They were drawn together by the mutual hope of mutual help in searching for some way to get their runaway children to come home.

Group Therapy

For lack of a better name, they call themselves the National Society for the Parents of Flower Children. It is not so much an organization as it is group therapy during which the parents hope they may learn something from each other that they can use to help their children.

There was, for instance, the mother who lost her 17-year-old son to the hippie subculture she cannot understand. He left home four years ago. Lately he's been coming back when he's hungry or in trouble with the law.

"Once I sat up all night outside a jail knowing my son was in a cell inside and I thought things could never be any worse," she said. "Then the next morning I heard he had escaped and suddenly things were much worse."

"There are times I feel there's just no reason to hope that we'll ever be happy again. All we need is one step forward. Just one. We'd take our boy back. We want him back. But he doesn't want us."

Small Group

The NSPFC group is small. It started with 35 parents and has dwindled during its two months of existence to 15.

The NSPFC meets on Tuesday nights in a hall at St. Thomas Episcopal church located just one block from Dupont Circle. Washington's hippie area. At first, the group meetings were tense, a little like the opening of a new chapter of Alcoholics Anonymous, as one parent put it.

Difficult to Admit

"When parents first come, they're belligerent defensive," a father said. "They think only their children need help. They find it very difficult to sit in front of other people and admit that they may have failed their children as much as they think their children failed them."

"The road back from this problem isn't a one-lane road. The parents and the children have to travel it together."

Some parents think they may have found the road back and they are anxious to tell other NSPFC members about it.

"After hunting for a year I found my son and to my surprise he agreed to submit to a (mental) examination, not so much out of willingness to re-turn to the fold but more out of interest in what the doctors would do to him," one father said at a recent meeting.

He volunteered to give the group full details on the examination and its results as soon as he could.

"If it helps my son maybe it can help some of you," he said. "I have hope."

"He doesn't wear the way-out clothes. The hair and the beard, yes. He has withdrawn from everything material, devoted himself to a life of meditation, living on brown rice and tea, yes."

Kooky but Clean
"But he lives in a relatively clean place. Kooky but clean. He smokes a little pot, a little opium. He paints when he feels like it."

"But when I found him a year ago he was living in filth and such a crowded condition that you couldn't get inside the door without retching. So he hasn't gone down if anything, he's come up a little bit."

The mother whose son left four years ago said:

"I hear about the others who are making progress and I feel good for them. I really do. But after four years I can't help thinking, oh dear God, it must be my turn!"

Bids Supervisors Slowdown Last Minute 1967 Spending

In the interest of allowing the new county legislators, who will take office on January 1, to have as much fiscal latitude as possible and to have a sound basis upon which to begin its work, Republican Supervisor William R. West, Woodstock, has suggested to Chairman Peter J. Savago, New Paltz, that the current Board of Supervisors "refrain from obligating the county for any additional capital expenditures."

"The leadership should consider appointing from among the legislators a committee to review all pending programs. This review should be geared to developing a comprehensive report setting forth the status of all pending and proposed projects and outlining cost of each project and its possible effect on the tax rate of Ulster County," West proposes.

This Program Review Report, West feels should be available at the earliest possible time to enable the county legislators to fully evaluate public reaction to the programs prior to any necessary action.

Such a report would enable each legislator to more accurately evaluate the pending and proposed programs and their possible impact on the tax rate of Ulster County and to accordingly assign priorities on a need basis.

In a letter to Chairman Savago, Supervisor West points out that during the recent campaign the subject of ever increasing taxes "was an issue uppermost in the minds of the people."

Reelect Gollnick Fire Union Prexy

Robert Gollnick, president of the Ulster County Firefighters Association Local 461, was elected to a second term at a union meeting early this week at Cornell Fire Station.

Dennis Lenahan was elected vice president while Hugh Greer and Edward Crosswell were named to their third terms as secretary and treasurer, respectively. William Schreiber was elected to a three-year term as trustee.

Local 461, by unanimous action, authorized Gollnick to attend a leadership training and labor relations seminar at the University of Massachusetts, Amherst, Jan. 15-19. The seminar was arranged by the International Association of Fire Fighters AFL-CIO-CLC of which Local 461 is a member.

The recent working contract for 1968 on salaries and fringe benefits which was offered to the Fire Fighters by the Board of Fire Commissioners, and accepted by members of 461 in a secret ballot election last Friday, Dec. 1, was discussed. The members said they felt that the contract was fair both to the fire fighters and the City and anticipates acceptance by the mayor and the Common Council.

Awareness of the Johnson administration's recently proposed tax increase on the federal level; that Governor Rockefeller has indicated that he will ask for a tax increase on the state level and there has been locally a move to impose a county sales tax. Supervisor West states "these proposed tax increases plus the increases in spending that the state has mandated for the county (welfare, medicaid, etc.), are of serious concern to me."

While no final figures have been compiled as yet for the 1968 county budget and probably will not be completed for a few days, present indications are that the 1968 budget will be close to $2 million larger than the 1967 budget. Much of this increase is due to state medicaid and to increased welfare costs and the new county wage schedule recommended in the Hanawalt Associates report.

A meeting of the Budget Committee is scheduled for today.

Training Course In Programming Planned by NCR

An instruction course in computer programming is being made available by The National Cash Register Company, it was announced today by Charles J. Breny, manager of NCR's operations in this area. The course is free of charge to anyone meeting the minimum qualifications and is open to Ulster and Dutchess County area residents.

The course serves as a basis for understanding electronic data processing in general, Breny said, although it was developed specifically to train programmers for NCR's Series 500 computer system.

Information regarding the course may be obtained by writing NCR, 10 Raymond Avenue, Poughkeepsie.

Breny pointed out that the course taught in Poughkeepsie by an experienced instructor using the very latest educational techniques. The course has been successfully used to train thousands of programmers during the last two years and is now being made available to interested persons in this area.

The total time required to complete the course is eight weeks. Classes meet for three hours two nights each week and Saturday mornings to start during the month of January. Flowcharts, forms, and worksheets are contained in a free student training kit which becomes a permanent reference book for the student at completion of the course.

"We hope," concluded Breny, "that this opportunity will allow a great number of people to investigate the rapidly expanding field of Electronic Data Processing to begin or further their career in EDP."

Highest Sales For Period Are Noted by CU

Sales of The Grand Union Company for the five-week period ended Nov. 25, 1967, totaled $92,070,698, it was announced today by the large food and general merchandise retailing chain. This represents an increase of 12.8 per cent over sales of $81,657,305 in the comparable period of 1966.

Representing the highest sales for a similar five-week period (Oct.-Nov.) in Grand Union's 95-year history, the results comprised the largest percentage gain in sales for a five-week period so far in fiscal 1967.

For the first 39 weeks of the company's current fiscal year, through November 25, sales were a record $670,528,126, an increase of 8.9 per cent over sales of $615,943,145 in the corresponding period a year ago.

Grand Union had 562 retail outlets in operation—530 supermarkets and 32 Grand Way discount department stores—as of Nov. 25, 1967, as compared to 557 at the same time in 1966. The company has stores in 11 states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico.

New Caldor Hours

The Caldor discount department store chain has scheduled longer hours for the holiday shopping season to make shopping at the store more convenient for shoppers, according to Fred Teitel, vice president.

Sales and service personnel have also been increased at the store to maintain Caldor's policy of personalized service for its customers.

Store hours for Christmas shopping season at the Kingston store at the intersection of Route 9W and Neighborhood Road will be from 9:30 to 10 p. m. Monday through Friday and 9 a. m. to 10 p. m. on Saturday.

Snoopy Is Hit With Kiddies at Ward's Toy Area

Snoopy, that lovable World War One ace from Charles M. Schultz comic strip Peanuts, is the hit of Christmas, according to Fred Pierce, national catalog sales manager of the Montgomery Ward toy department.

"Out of all the toys in our 400-page Christmas catalog, the little Snoopy doll, complete with helmet, goggles and scarf, is the leader," says Pierce. The characters from the Peanuts comic strip, a Freeman comic feature, are featured on the cover of Ward's catalog as well as in a two-page spread of toys inside.

With Christmas less than three weeks away, catalog sales of toys give a good idea of what is popular this year. For one thing, War toys are not popular. Following Snoopy, another comic strip character, Yogi Bear, in the form of a ball tossing game, is going to grace the Christmas scene of many homes across the nation.

As usual dolls are popular. The Barbie doll, now able to twist at the waist, is near the top. Barbie also has four new stewardess outfits designed by Emilio Pucci. Her boyfriend, Ken, is an airlines pilot.

A newcomer to the toy world is Major Matt Mason, who is making a name for himself. He is a spaceman and has a space sled, space station and space crawler. He is dressed in an official-looking space suit.

Other popular toys are the Princess pushbutton telephone, a friction car, walkie-talkies, road racer sets and games, games. Some of the more popular games are the Mouseie Mouse, Twister, Operations, The Great Escape, and Clue.

The tiny tots are going to enjoy the walking vegetables, Munchie Melon, Barnaby Banana and Corkie Corn—all silly, six-inch toys that walk around when you wind them up.

"It's going to be a fun Christmas for the kids," Pierce says, "according to catalog toy sales, with good old Snoopy flying high."

Penney's Notes Sales Hit Peak For 3rd Period

NEW YORK — J. C. Penney Company's earnings for the third quarter and the nine months reached peaks on record sales for both periods, it was reported recently by William M. Batten, chairman and Pres. Ray H. Jordan, president.

The department store chain's net earnings for the third quarter, July 31 through Oct. 28, rose to $25,676,865 from $24,595,611 for the comparable period last year. The increase amounted to $1,081,254 or 4.4 per cent.

Net income for the 13-week period was equal to $1.03 a share against 99 cents a share in 1966.

Third-quarter volume rose 7.3 per cent to $705,407,245 from $657,547,151 last year, an increase of $47,860,094.

After a moderately strong August, the Penney officers noted that September and October both were characterized by sluggish buying activity and fell short of expectations. They suggested that this sluggishness was caused by strikes, unfavorable weather in some areas as well as consumer uncertainty.

Serving to counter the September and October sales results, Batten and Jordan said, was a heightened expense-consciousness on the part of Penney store managers.

While they anticipate a record Christmas buying season, the Penney officers said that the results will depend to a substantial degree on the level of consumer confidence.

For the first nine months of the fiscal year, the company recorded earnings of $2.10 a share against $2.05 for the comparable period last year.

Net earnings for the 39 weeks ended Oct. 28 amounted to $51,468,058 compared with $51,057,770 for the same 1966 period, an increase of $1,410,288 or 2.8 per cent.

As previously reported, Penney's nine-month volume was up 8.9 per cent over a year ago. Sales this year were $1,856,203,777, or $151,300,682 more than the $1,704,903,095 recorded a year ago.

Penney's operates a local store at 318 Wall Street.

New Hercules Unit

A new, multimillion-dollar Hercules de Centroamerica toxaphene plant near Managua, Nicaragua, in Central America, was dedicated recently by the president of Nicaragua, General Anastasio Somoza D. The new facility, named the Hercas plant, is owned jointly by Central American investors and Hercules Incorporated of Wilmington, Delaware. The facility will produce toxaphene, the chlorinated camphene insecticide, developed and patented by Hercules Incorporated. Toxaphene has been one of the principal insecticides contributing to the tremendous growth in cotton production in Central America.

Lasted Longer

The so-called Thirty Years War, 17th-century struggle between the Austrian Hapsburgs and the German princes and cities, actually lasted 50 years, though there were about a dozen interruptions at various times.

W.C. Fields Movies Making Comeback

BY BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — That notorious opponent of the establishment, W. C. Fields, appears to be the latest screen immortal to be embraced by the new generation of film goers.

It's still not certain whether the rediscovery of Fields was entirely spontaneous or was inspired by the alert salesmen of Universal Pictures. The company made some test engagements of Fields comedies in Cincinnati, Cleveland and Detroit in late summer, and was encouraged to launch a full-scale campaign.

Such films as "Bank Dick," "You Can't Cheat An Honest Man," "My Little Chickadee" and "Never Give a Sucker an Even Break" have been playing in two New York Theaters and two in Los Angeles. Now Universal is planning a nationwide release, aiming primarily at college communities.

Apparently collegiates do have an affinity for Fields. What is the source of his appeal, aside from the fact that he was a very funny man?

"He was one of the great put-ons of all time," theorized a Universal executive. "No one did a better job of laughing at the establishment."

That seems to be an important factor in film merchandizing nowadays: to capitalize on the youthful revolt against those who hold the power. Robert Aldrich ascribed that element as the principal reason for the amazing success of his "Dirty Dozen."

It is true that the Fields comedies pictured him at odds with the authorities. He was the master of the shell game, a man who would sell a talking dog in a saloon, only to have the dog refuse to talk afterward. Always Fields was one step ahead of the sheriff. Even in his one attempt at the classic, "David Copperfield," he played the debt-ridden Micawber.

Fields relationships with the opposite sex took two forms. He was plagued by a battle ax of a wife, E. G. Kathleen Howard in "The Man on the Flying Trapeze," whose rantings he accepted with an unhearing "yes, dear, yes, dear." Or else he was the florid wooer of the rich widow, as with Jan Duggan in "The Old Fashioned Way." I can still recall his fingering of her curls, only to have one come off in his hand.

Pool shark, con man, drummer with a different march, Fields was always at odds with organized society. The ordinary sentimentalities repulsed him. "Anybody who hates dogs and children can't be all bad." He was essentially a loner—one resourceful, vaguely nefarious man against the world.

Following Snoopy, another comic strip character, Yogi Bear, in the form of a ball tossing game, is going to grace the Christmas sales of many homes across the nation.

As usual dolls are popular. The Barbie doll, now able to twist at the waist, is near the top. Barbie also has four new stewardess outfits designed by Emilio Pucci. Her boyfriend, Ken, is an airlines pilot.

A newcomer to the toy world is Major Matt Mason, who is making a name for himself. He is a spaceman and has a space crawler, space station and space crawler. He is dressed in an official-looking space suit.

Other popular toys are the Princess pushbutton telephone, a friction car, walkie-talkies, road racer sets and games, games, games. Some of the more popular games are the Mouseie Mouseie, Twister, Operations, The Great Escape, and Clue.

The tiny tots are going to enjoy the walking vegetables, Munchie Melon, Barnaby Banana and Corkie Corn—all silly, six-inch toys that walk around when you wind them up.

"It's going to be a fun Christmas for the kids," Pierce says, "according to catalog toy sales, with good old Snoopy flying high."

Penney's Notes Sales Hit Peak For 3rd Period

NEW YORK — J. C. Penney Company's earnings for the third quarter and the nine months reached peaks on record sales for both periods, it was reported recently by William M. Batten, chairman and Pres. Ray H. Jordan, president.

The department store chain's net earnings for the third quarter, July 31 through Oct. 28, rose to $25,676,865 from $24,595,611 for the comparable period last year. The increase amounted to $1,081,254 or 4.4 per cent.

Net income for the 13-week period was equal to $1.03 a share against 99 cents a share in 1966.

Third-quarter volume rose 7.3 per cent to $705,407,245 from $657,547,151 last year, an increase of $47,860,094.

After a moderately strong August, the Penney officers noted that September and October both were characterized by sluggish buying activity and fell short of expectations. They suggested that this sluggishness was caused by strikes, unfavorable weather in some areas as well as consumer uncertainty.

Serving to counter the September and October sales results, Batten and Jordan said, was a heightened expense-consciousness on the part of Penney store managers.

While they anticipate a record Christmas buying season, the Penney officers said that the results will depend to a substantial degree on the level of consumer confidence.

For the first nine months of the fiscal year, the company recorded earnings of $2.10 a share against $2.05 for the comparable period last year.

Net earnings for the 39 weeks ended Oct. 28 amounted to $74,468,058 compared with $71,057,770 for the same 1966 period, an increase of $1,410,288 or 2.8 per cent.

As previously reported, Penney's nine-month volume was up 8.9 per cent over a year ago. Sales this year were $1,856,203,777, or $151,300,682 more than the $1,704,903,095 recorded a year ago.

Penney's operates a local store at 318 Wall Street.

New Hercules Unit

A new, multimillion-dollar Hercules de Centroamerica toxaphene plant near Managua, Nicaragua, in Central America, was dedicated recently by the president of Nicaragua, General Anastasio Somoza D. The new facility, named the Hercasaplant, is owned jointly by Central American investors and Hercules Incorporated of Wilmington, Delaware. The facility will produce toxaphene, the chlorinated camphene insecticide, developed and patented by Hercules Incorporated. Toxaphene has been one of the principal insecticides contributing to the tremendous growth in cotton production in Central America.

Lasted Longer

The so-called Thirty Years War, 17th-century struggle between the Austrian Hapsburgs and the German princes and cities, actually lasted 50 years, though there were about a dozen interruptions at various times.

W.C. Fields Movies Making Comeback

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — That notorious opponent of the establishment, W. C. Fields, appears to be the latest screen immortal to be embraced by the new generation of film goers.

It's still not certain whether the rediscovery of Fields was entirely spontaneous or was inspired by the alert salesmen of Universal Pictures. The company made some test engagements of Fields comedies in Cincinnati, Cleveland and Detroit in late summer, and was encouraged to launch a full-scale campaign.

Such films as "Bank Dick," "You Can't Cheat An Honest Man," "My Little Chickadee" and "Never Give a Sucker an Even Break" have been playing in two New York Theaters and two in Los Angeles. Now Universal is planning a nationwide release, aiming primarily at college communities.

Apparently collegiates do have an affinity for Fields. What is the source of his appeal, aside from the fact that he was a very funny man?

"He was one of the great put-ons of all time," theorized a Universal executive. "No one did a better job of laughing at the establishment."

That seems to be an important factor in film merchandising nowadays: to capitalize on the youthful revolt against those who hold the power. Robert Aldrich ascribed that element as the principal reason for the amazing success of his "Dirty Dozen."

It is true that the Fields comedies pictured him at odds with the authorities. He was the master of the shell game, a man who would sell a talking dog in a saloon, only to have the dog refuse to talk afterward. Always Fields was one step ahead of the sheriff. Even in his one attempt at the classic, "David Copperfield," he played the debt-ridden Micawber.

Fields relationships with the opposite sex took two forms. He was plagued by a battle ax of a wife, E. G. Kathleen Howard in "The Man on the Flying Trapeze," whose rantings he accepted with an unhearing "yes, dear, yes, dear." Or else he was the florid wooer of the rich widow, as with Jan Duggan in "The Old Fashioned Way." I can still recall his fingering of her curls, only to have one come off in his hand.

Pool shark, con man, drummer with a different march, Fields was always at odds with organized society. The ordinary sentimentalities repulsed him. "Anybody who hates dogs and children can't be all bad." He was essentially a loner—a resourceful, vaguely nefarious man against the world.

Employee security is another problem which Caldor officials are solving. Frequently under- cover operators can be found on both sides of the counter. These members of the company's security force provide checks against internal losses caused by employees' thefts.

ing and larceny was announced Tuesday by Burt Cohen, assistant vice president of security for the Caldor discount department store chain at a management seminar at the company's store on Route 9W, in cooperation with State Police Senior BCI Investigator Edward Shannon and other Kingston area merchants.

The seminar was held while city and county police agencies were working in cooperation with merchants to stem a rash of shoplifting and larcenies that occur during the Christmas holiday shopping season.

Nationwide Drive

The crackdown outlined at Caldor's yesterday is part of a nationwide drive against shoplifting which has seen the establishment of clinics in many cities designed to assist store security personnel in combating the rapidly-growing national problem.

Authorities throughout the three states in which Caldor stores are operated have responded favorably to the increased efforts of Caldor's security department. Carl Bennett, owner and founder of the discount department store chain said the store "looks forward to a great lessening of the pilferage problem." He believes it will be due to the increased public awareness of the store's policy and to the great assistance which is being tendered by local police.

Cohen told the management seminar that Caldor security forces are cooperating with local police in the "get tough" campaign to prevent loss of merchandise at the local Caldor store and throughout the entire chain. Caldor will turn shoplifters over to local police for strict prosecution.

Detection of shoplifters will be accomplished through the use of a variety of modern devices and techniques including two-way mirrors and a newly enlarged force of plain clothes security personnel. Other security measures, commonly used in the department store and retail business, include closed circuit television, sensitive metallic labelling, electronic and lighting devices.

The Caldor security operatives who actually have the responsibility of apprehending the shoplifters pose as regular customers in the store and are supplemented by Caldor's regular sales and service personnel within the store. A greatly increased efficiency in Caldor's security operation is pointed to by company officials. The company has recently added a number of well-trained, competent people as security operatives and reports that it will move them from store to store to handle problem situations.

Cites Philosophy

Caldor's philosophy of security is to make dishonesty as unappealing as possible. This, officials feel, can be done by discouraging "so-called" amateurs who steal from retail stores.

Civil Liberty Group Hears Panel Speakers

Black Power and Civil Liberties were discussed at a panel meeting of the Mid-Hudson Chapter of the Civil Liberties Union Tuesday night in the Rose Room of the YWCA, Cannon Street, Poughkeepsie.

Participating in the panel were Noel Tepper, attorney; Erwin Reeves and Richard Irving of the Lower Main Street Association of Poughkeepsie. Moderator was James Hillestad of the State University College at New Paltz, chairman of the local chapter, Civil Liberties Union.

In describing Black Power, Reeves contended that "violence is only the last resort. We don't want to wreck the first amendment; we want to be able to use it."

Irving expressed the view that "civil liberties of black people have been taken away and not given back."

Tepper called the Black Power a "revolutionary movement, anti-democratic in nature," contending that it can be "destructive to both races."

Freeman Poll on County Sales Tax

Some Not Pleased, Also Not Overwhelmingly Opposed

By CHARLES BERMPOHL

A sampling of public opinion suggests that the people of Ulster County are not particularly pleased with the prospects for a County sales tax, but neither are they overwhelmingly opposed to it.

The Kingston Freeman conducted a poll among shoppers in and around the Kingston area including business and sales people and housewives. Many people were unfamiliar with the proposed new tax which the new County Legislature will explore in 1968, and others were not sure just why the tax was suggested in the first place.

23 Aware of Formula

Of approximately 60 persons

questioned, 23 were aware of the sales tax formula and were willing to speak out on the issue. Many of the rest appeared to be against any raise in taxes.

Of the 23, 14 were against the scheme, five were absolutely for it, and six would reluctantly accept it.

Mrs. Elaine Crepet of High Falls, an employee of Kingston Trust Co., said, "You get so used to being taxed, you just accept it."

A secretary from Kingston, when asked about the tax, said, "Why not? It'll get the public to share the expense and distribute the burden."

Those opposed to the new tax had different reasons: Mrs. Sara Kirtland, a programming writer-analyst for IBM, declared, "A sales tax is completely inequitable. It hits at the people who are least able to pay it, the low income people with large families. Maybe there should be a county income tax; this would make the tax hike much more reasonable on a personal income basis."

John Parete, a stock broker, appeared to agree with her: "I don't like county sales taxes because they are regressive. I would rather see a personal income tax that would get to the people who can afford to pay."

"I don't see the equality in the situation where a welfareer, who needs snow tires, has to pay the same tax that someone else, in the middle or upper income bracket, would pay. Taxes should be paid by percentage of income," he said.

A housewife from Stone Ridge, on the other side of the fence, was against the tax because "... we pay real estate taxes on our house, and they are pretty high. My son is going in the service and he won't be able to help us anymore."

Another housewife from Saugerties said, "I don't see why I have to pay any more taxes. All (these taxes) are going to the welfareers. My husband and I work very hard, and I can't see why I have to pay for their (the welfareers') drinking habits and illegitimate children."

A county officer said, "Some of the burden has to be taken off the shoulders of the property owner—he's paying too much in taxes as it is. The sales tax would make it a little more equitable."

Lawrence Decker, manager and co-owner of Kingston Blueprint and Supply Co., said, "What with Johnson's new tax and Rockefeller's new tax, and this new county tax, I don't know where the money will be coming from."

A Saugerties machinist had it that, "When government gets bigger, it gets more expensive to run, and the taxpayer has to pay for it. I don't know, I'm living better than I did 10 years ago, but if they put it to a vote it won't pass, but they can probably get around that."

An IBM engineer from the Kingston area had a similar opinion: "I didn't see how the Republicans could escape it. Taxes are going up all over and they held out as long as they could, maybe even longer than they should have. If the people want the services they are going to have to pay for them."

A Wawarsing salesman suggested, "I knew that as soon as the election was over, somebody would think of a tax—that's the politicians for you. They didn't say anything about it before the election."

A male shopper went along with the logic: "What sales tax? What are they going to tax this time? Let me tell you something—if they put through this thing you're going to see a lot of new faces around here two years from now."

Housewife in Favor

A housewife and property owner from Glasco said, "If it'll take some of the burden off the property owner it'll be a good thing. It would be much more equal to get more people to pay for government expenses."

Retailer Fred Strassberg of Woodstock said, "(The County government) should look for ways of cutting unnecessary spending. They haven't looked in all areas for money. Why don't they invite industry into the area to broaden the tax base? Sales taxes and other taxes have to end some place."

Another retailer, this one from Kingston, said, "So who likes taxes? Maybe they could cut down on expenses. I see (Mayor Raymond W.) Garrahan wants more money and he's in favor of the tax, isn't he? Maybe he should take a cut." A Kingston housewife defined stop it. We won't see the end of the resigned acceptance theme when she said, "We're paying so to pay the bills if you want to much in taxes as it is, but I stay solvent."

why

Most people use OIL HEAT for their own homes because they KNOW it's the most economical fuel.

Yet some of these same home owners will vote on a bond issue for school or public construction, not having the slightest idea about how the building will be heated. Why???

Can your community afford to waste money? Is it fair to your children to bear for years to come the burden of an unwise choice today of heating fuels?

Insist that your school board, town or city council, or county representative always get comparative heating costs on all new construction. Let them know that a decision should ONLY be made after a full, unbiased and qualified engineering report has been received.

Don't let someone else gamble with rates, reliability or comfort. It's YOUR money at stake!

Freeman Poll on County Sales Tax

Some Not Pleased, Also Not Overwhelmingly Opposed

By CHARLES BERMPOHL

A sampling of public opinion suggests that the people of Ulster County are not particularly pleased with the prospects for a County sales tax, but neither are they overwhelmingly opposed to it.

The Kingston Freeman conducted a poll among shoppers in and around the Kingston area including business and sales people and housewives. Many people were unfamiliar with the proposed new tax which the new County Legislature will explore in 1968, and others were not sure just why the tax was suggested in the first place.

23 Aware of Formula
Of approximately 60 persons

questioned, 23 were aware of the sales tax formula and were willing to speak out on the issue. Many of the rest appeared to be against any raise in taxes.

Of the 23, 14 were against the scheme, five were absolutely for it, and six would reluctantly accept it.

Mrs. Elaine Crepet of High Falls, an employee of Kingston Trust Co., said, "You get so used to being taxed, you just accept it."

A secretary from Kingston, when asked about the tax, said, "Why not? It'll get the public to share the expense and distribute the burden."

Those opposed to the new tax had different reasons: Mrs. Sara Kirtland, a programming writer-analyst for IBM, declared, "A sales tax is completely inequitable. It hits at the people who are least able to pay it, the low income people with large families. Maybe there should be a county income tax; this would make the tax hike much more reasonable on a personal income basis."

John Parete, a stock broker, appeared to agree with her: "I don't like county sales taxes because they are regressive. I would rather see a personal income tax that would get to the people who can afford to pay."

"I don't see the equality in the situation where a welfareer, who needs snow tires, has to pay the same tax that someone else, in the middle or upper income bracket, would pay. Taxes should be paid by percentage of income," he said.

A housewife from Stone Ridge, on the other side of the fence, was against the tax because "... we pay real estate taxes on our house, and they are pretty high. My son is going in the service and he won't be able to help us anymore."

Another housewife from Saugerties said, "I don't see why I have to pay any more taxes. All (these taxes) are going to the welfareers. My husband and I work very hard, and I can't see why I have to pay for their (the 'welfareers') drinking habits and illegitimate children."

A county officer said, "Some of the burden has to be taken off the shoulders of the property owner—he's paying too much in taxes as it is. The sales tax would make it a little more equitable."

Lawrence Decker, manager and co-owner of Kingston Blueprint and Supply Co., said, "What with Johnson's new tax, and Rockefeller's new tax, and this new county tax, I don't know where the money will be coming from."

A Saugerties machinist had it that, "When government gets bigger, it gets more expensive to run, and the taxpayer has to pay for it. I don't know, I'm living better than I did 10 years ago, but if they put it to a vote it won't pass, but they can probably get around that."

An IBM engineer from the Kingston area had a similar opinion: "I didn't see how the Republicans could escape it. Taxes are going up all over and they held out as long as they could, maybe even longer than they should have. If the people want the services they are going to have to pay for them."

A Wawarsing salesman suggested, "I know that as soon as the election was over, somebody would think of a tax—that's the politicians for you. They didn't say anything about it before the election."

A male shopper went along with the logic: "What sales tax? What are they going to tax this time? Let me tell you something—if they put through this thing you're going to see a lot of new faces around here two years from now."

Housewife in Favor

A housewife and property owner from Glasco said, "If it'll take some of the burden off the property owner it'll be a good thing. It would be much more equal to get more people to pay for government expenses."

Retailer Fred Strassberg of Woodstock said, "The County government should look for ways of cutting unnecessary spending. They haven't looked in all areas for money. Why don't they invite industry into the area to broaden the tax base? Sales taxes and other taxes have to end some place."

Another retailer, this one from Kingston, said, "So who likes taxes? Maybe they could cut down on expenses. I see (Mayor Raymond W.) Garrahan wants more money and he's in favor of the tax, isn't he? Maybe he should take a cut."

A Kingston housewife defined the resigned acceptance theme when she said, "We're paying so much in taxes as it is, but I stay solvent."

don't see how we'll be able to stop it. We won't see the end of taxes in my lifetime. You have to pay the bills if you want to stay solvent."

HEART NAIL — A nurse attends D. S. Brough, 39, in hospital Wednesday where he is recovering from operation in which doctors removed a nail nearly three inches long from his heart on Monday. Medical sources said the nail was possibly the largest object ever successfully removed from a human heart. Brough was struck in the chest by the nail while working with a pneumatic drill. X-rays located the nail protruding from his heart, and it was removed, probably saving his life, doctors said. (UPI CABLEPHOTO).

Lions Hear Aims of New Ulster School

Raymond A. Nelson, headmaster of the newly founded but as yet not operating Ulster Academy, spoke Tuesday at the weekly meeting of the Kingston Lions.

In explanation, Nelson, who is an ordained Episcopal priest, will be directing a non-sectarian, independent and small-scale school specializing in preparing students for a college education. The school will be the first of its kind in this area and the only one between Poughkeepsie and Albany.

The founders are planning on locating within the city and are considering several sites at this time. The college preparatory course will be offered initially in grades 7 through 10 with a yearly expansion eventually extending the curriculum through grade 12.

The basis of the school is to offer a specialized education for a particular type student in which the student has both a choice and the freedom to benefit from it.

Nelson stressed that there will be no discriminatory barriers for entrance to Ulster Academy.

Switch to Stocks

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The University of Cincinnati plans to buy more growth stocks in the future instead of sticking to high-grade corporate bonds that yield a fixed return.

The board of directors approved the change after Philip M. Meyers, the board's finance committee chairman, delivered a lecture on practical finance. Meyers said it now takes $400,000 invested at straight interest to pay a professor's salary and added that UC's $35-million endowment fund earns only about $1 million a year toward a $58.5-million operating budget.

Julie Wilson Is Night Songbird

BY SUSAN THURMOND
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "I'm just an old-fashioned gal," sings Julie Wilson. And it's true. She is an old-fashioned gal from Nebraska whose talents as a smart chanteuse have been delighting night club audiences for some time.

Although she has appeared on stage, screen and television, Julie says her real niche is in supper club entertaining. Performing in a dynamic, alive mood, she's at her best as she moves around in her slinky beaded gowns that have become her trademark.

Having won the title of Miss Nebraska at the age of 17, Julie, now 42, looks good enough to have been among this year's contenders for Miss America. She recently changed her hairstyle from a plain bun at the nape of her neck to a glamorous updo.

Miss Wilson's repertoire is a mixture of old and new. Her voice has a distinctive throaty quality. She loves doing all types of songs, but says, "The material songs are the ones favored by most audiences."

Featured Vocalist

Miss Wilson got into singing when she left Omaha University to join the touring company of Earl Carroll's Vanities, where she was a featured vocalist. This eventually led to a successful round of supper club engagements across the country and in England. Then she appeared in the role of Bianca in "Kiss Me Kate" on Broadway and in "South Pacific" and "Bells Are Ringing" in London.

For some time Julie wanted to act more than sing. She made two movies, which didn't advance her acting career. She says, "Acting just didn't seem to be my calling and my singing pushed itself to the front." Today, she's concentrating on her singing career and marriage to producer Michael McAloney, which has produced two

Influx of Foreign Steel Adds to Industry Problem

PITTSBURGH (AP) — There's a steady and growing flow of foreign steel into the United States adding to the problems of the nation's steel industry.

The shipments are coming from 42 nations. Some of the countries are hardly considered steel-producing nations, for instance, Costa Rica, British Guiana and the Dominican Republic.

Five Communist-ruled nations are on the list: Poland, East Germany, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia and Lithuania.

If you live in a home built recently, chances are good the nails came from Japan. Japan leads all other nations in exporting steel to America.

Until a decade ago, this country exported more steel than it imported. The situation was reversed in 1959, and since then, foreign producers have steadily increased imports to America. Last year, imports hit a record 10.7 million tons, 11 per cent of U.S. steel consumption. Imports in the first nine months of this year ran 3 per cent ahead of last year.

In the current steel price increase in this country, fear has been expressed by some that higher domestic prices may push up imports.

Industry people say import tonnage will go up, but not because U.S. prices are going up. They say foreign prices will increase right along with domestic prices, and assert that any stepup in imports will be caused by worldwide economic factors which led to substantial foreign imports in the first place.

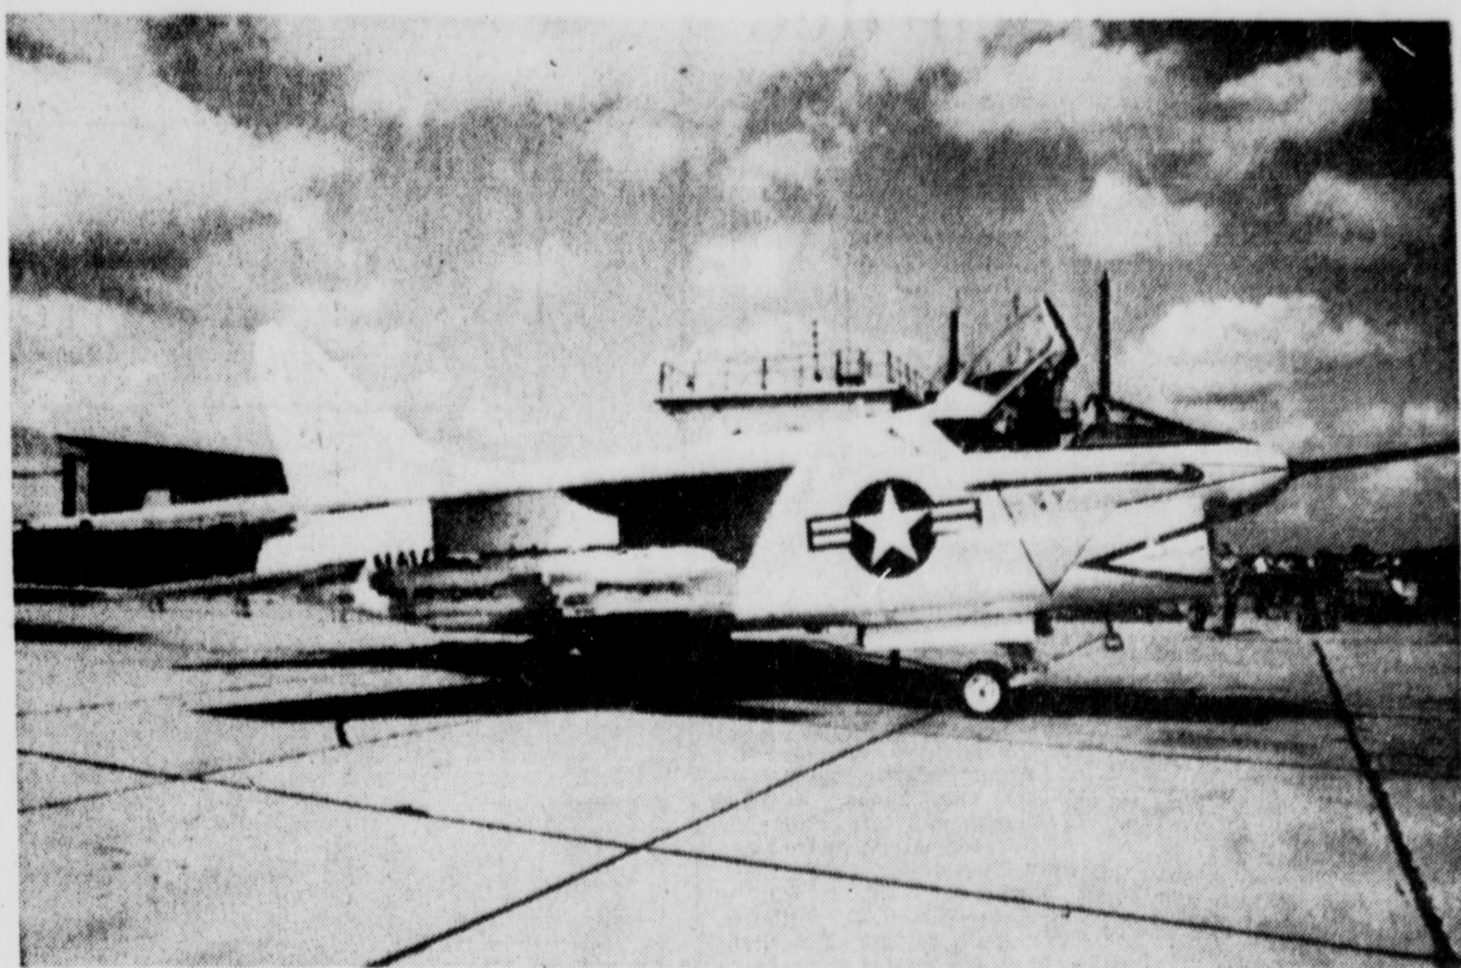

Wednesday, U.S. Steel Corp., the nation's biggest steelmaker, and second-ranked Bethlehem Steel Corp. announced their second price hike in a week. U.S. Steel went up $5 a ton on galvanized and aluminum coated sheets, and Bethlehem went up $5 a ton on galvanized sheets.

Last Friday, U.S. Steel boosted its price on cold rolled sheets, and a number of other producers, including Bethlehem followed suit.

Foreign producers are able to carve deeper inroads in the American market for the simple reason they can make steel cheaper because of lower labor costs.

The Japanese could undersell us by $40 a ton if they wanted to, "one Pittsburgh steel executive said.

But foreigners are having profit problems, too. A number of foreign steelmakers are getting subsidies from their governments just to keep above water.

NEW WEAPON — The United States has launched a new weapon, the sleek and highly maneuverable A7 Corsair II aircraft (shown in a 1965 file photo), in to the air war over North Vietnam. The U. S. Navy attack fighter, a single-engine jet that can carry its own weight in bombs and hug the ground at 575 miles an hour to avoid radar and surface-to-air missiles, struck targets in the North for the first time Monday. Next Stop: Museum

Queen Mary Departs for Coast

ACAPULCO, Mexico (AP) — The Queen Mary steamed out of port for the last time Wednesday morning on her way to Long Beach, Calif., to become a maritime museum.

The famous British vessel left

Acapulco Bay after 16 hours of parties and civic receptions in what Capt. J. Treasure Jones called "by far the warmest reception we've had on this cruise."

The voyage from Southampton to California may have been memorable for the 1,200 passengers but it has been an ordeal for the crew. "We haven't had a night off since we left home," several crew members complained. "There have been special cocktail parties and receptions in every port and the crew has catered them all."

A majority of the passengers on the final voyage are from Southern California. Six hundred residents of Long Beach flew to Southampton for the ship's departure. The passengers, during the first four weeks of the six-week voyage, consumed 93,000 bottles of beer. The ship is due in Long Beach on Saturday.

Julie Wilson Is Night Songbird

By SUSAN THURMOND
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "I'm just an old-fashioned gal," sings Julie Wilson. And it's true. She is an old-fashioned gal from Nebraska whose talents as a smart chanteuse have been delighting night club audiences for some time.

Although she has appeared on stage, screen and television, Julie says her real niche is in supper club entertaining. Performing in a dynamic, alive mood, she's at her best as she moves around in her slinky beaded gowns that have become her trademark.

Having won the title of Miss Nebraska at the age of 17, Julie, now 42, looks good enough to have been among this year's contenders for Miss America. She recently changed her hairstyle from a plain bun at the nape of her neck to a glamorous upsweep.

Miss Wilson's repertoire is a mixture of old and new. Her voice has a distinctive, throaty quality. She loves doing all types of songs, but says, "the material songs are the ones favored by most audiences."

Featured Vocalist
Miss Wilson got into singing when she left Omaha University to join the touring company of Earl Carroll's Vanities, where she was a featured vocalist. This eventually led to a successful round of supper club engagements across the country and in England. Then she appeared in the role of Bianca in "Kiss Me Kate" on Broadway and in "South Pacific" and "Bells Are Ringing" in London.

For some time Julie wanted to act more than sing. She made two movies, which didn't advance her acting career. She says, "Acting just didn't seem to be my calling and my singing pushed itself to the front."

Today, she's concentrating on her singing career and marriage to producer Michael McAloney, which has produced two little sons, Holt Quinn, 4, and Michael, 2½.

They are giving up their New York apartment where they've made home base. Miss Wilson is not certain where they'll be settling next. "The boys will be going to school soon and since my husband will be working in

Influx of Foreign Steel Adds to Industry Problem

PITTSBURGH (AP) — There's a steady and growing flow of foreign steel into the United States adding to the problems of the nation's steel industry.

The shipments are coming from 42 nations.

Some of the countries are hardly considered steel-producing nations, for instance, Costa Rica, British Guiana and the Dominican Republic.

Five Communist-ruled nations are on the list: Poland, East Germany, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia and Lithuania.

If you live in a home built recently, chances are good the nails came from Japan. Japan leads all other nations in exporting steel to America.

Until a decade ago, this country exported more steel than it imported. The situation was reversed in 1959, and since then, foreign producers have steadily increased imports to America. Last year, imports hit a record 10.7 million tons, 11 per cent of U.S. steel consumption. Imports in the first nine months of this year ran 3 per cent ahead of last year.

In the current steel price increase in this country, fear has been expressed by some that higher domestic prices may push up imports.

Industry people say import tonnage will go up, but not because U.S. prices are going up. They say foreign prices will increase right along with domestic prices, and assert that any stepup in imports will be caused by worldwide economic factors which led to substantial foreign imports in the first place.

Wednesday, U.S. Steel Corp., the nation's biggest steelmaker, and second-ranked Bethlehem Steel Corp. announced their second price hike in a week. U.S. Steel went up $5 a ton on galvanized and aluminum coated

Queen Mary Departs for Coast

ACAPULCO, Mexico (AP) —

The Queen Mary steamed out of port for the last time Wednesday morning on her way to Long Beach, Calif., to become a maritime museum.

The famous British vessel left

Acapulco Bay after 16 hours of parties and civic receptions in what Capt. J. Treasure Jones called "by far the warmest reception we've had on this cruise."

The voyage from Southampton to California may have been memorable for the 1,200 passengers but it has been an ordeal for the crew.

"We haven't had a night off since we left home," several crew members complained. "There have been special cock-tail parties and receptions in every port and the crew has catered them all."

A majority of the passengers on the final voyage are from Saturday.

Southern California. Six hundred residents of Long Beach flew to Southampton for the final voyage.

The passengers, during the first four weeks of the six-week voyage, consumed 93,000 bottles of beer.

Routine Check Nabs Man on Weapon Charge

The arrest yesterday of a White Plains man charged with having a dangerous weapon in his possession followed a routine check by State Policeman George Lawson en route from Fishkill to Rhinebeck.

Robert Wayne Vitrit, 22, of 1 Emmalon Avenue, White Plains, was arraigned before Judge George Pagnone in Poughkeepsie and committed to Dutchess County Jail in lieu of $1,000 bail. Sentencing was set for Dec. 10.

Trooper Lawson, who is stationed at the Fishkill barracks, was on his way to Rhinebeck for temporary assignment there. En route, a routine check of the Vitrit car revealed that the driver was carrying a starter pistol considered a dangerous weapon by State Police.

Dogs Told After All

VIENNA (AP) — Two watchdogs guarding the premises of a trucking firm were unable to distinguish between good and bad guys. They let a thief sneak away with a bunch of stolen tires but attacked a policeman who came to investigate the theft.

Police figured the thief was someone well known to the dogs and soon arrested an ex-employee.

County Workers To Elect at Tuesday Meet

The Ulster County Chapter Civil Service Employees Association announced last night that a special meeting for all Ulster County employees would be held Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in the County Office Building.

Chapter President Harold A. DeGraff advised that the purpose of this meeting would be to adopt a unit constitution which will enable the county employees to function independently as a separate unit for representation to the Board of Supervisors.

DeGraff said "that a committee of employees from the county had been appointed at the last meeting and were charged with the responsibility of drafting a constitution and nominating a slate of officers to run for office in this special unit. The meeting shall include the acceptance of these nominations and any others that may be accepted from the floor."

The special committee is composed of Martin Kelly, Highway Department, Margaret Neenan, Department of Social Services, and Mary Weber of the Health Department.

Kelly announced that the committee had considered the constitution and nominations very carefully and was ready to report to the general membership.

Edward J. Gusty, area CSEA representative who has been working with this committee indicated that the results of a recent membership drive in Ulster County had been most favorable and it should culminate in the recognition of the CSEA as the bargaining agent for the County Employees Unit.

Concord Halter Fails to Slow Drive for Rocky

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — A national group backing New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller for the Republican presidential nomination says it will not end its activities although a New Hampshire Rockefeller organization has agreed "to immediately cease any and all activity."

Nicholas Copadis of Manchester, N.H., leader of the group which had planned a write-in campaign for Rockefeller next March 12, made public Wednesday a letter sent to Rockefeller Dec. 1 agreeing to "accept to your (Rockefeller's) requests to immediately cease any and all activities in behalf of your candidacy in New Hampshire."

In New York, a spokesman for "Independent Citizens for Rockefeller" said the group's national activities will not be affected by the Copadis letter. Rockefeller answered Copadis, saying he is "deeply grateful to you and your associates for responding so graciously to my request and for the action you have taken in discontinuing your efforts."

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The Kentucky State Police is turning to the ranks of returning military servicemen in an attempt to bring its force up to full strength.

One of Life's Ordeals

What to Give Milady for Yule

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — One of life's little ordeals for a husband is finding out what to give his wife for Christmas.

The rest of the year the average housewife is only too explicit in expressing her wants.

She wants the house painted or she wants the family to have a color television set or she wants a new giant-sized refrigerator or she wants a fur coat or she wants a new electric dishwasher that will also play music or she wants to take a vacation in Hawaii.

Suddenly Mysterious

But at the approach of yuletide wives suddenly elect to become mysterious as to their demands and wishes. They turn into coy martyrs.

"And what do you want Santa Claus to bring you, dear?" asks the husband, after blanching at the three-page list of presents their children have drawn up on the bare requirements for their continued existence.

"Oh, nothing—nothing at all," replies the wife.

"What do you mean—nothing? You know darn well I'm going to get you something for Christmas. What would the kids think if I didn't? What would the neighbors say?"

"Well, I really don't want anything at all. Whatever you get, if you really feel you have to get me something, don't get me anything that is foolish and expensive."

So, if you're the husband, you start using the kids as intermediaries in the matter.

"Find out if your mother wants a bottle of perfume."

The Report

Back comes their report: She says she'd just as soon go on using that after shave lotion. "Mama don't want no perfume, you won on a punchboard."

"How about a nice big electric blanket?"

"Mama says our electric bills are already too high."

"Well, she loves music. See if she'd like to have a collection of Mozart recordings."

"Mama says to tell you that if you spent more time in the house you'd know that our phonograph hasn't been working for at least four months."

Finally you give up on the kids and take your problem to a neighbor.

"Of course your wife said no to buy her something that was silly and expensive," he says with a superior air. "Of course she said she wanted something practical. So did my wife."

"But the last thing any wife wants for Christmas is anything that's practical. I'm buying my wife a silk evening stole decorated with rhinestones hand-painted by a noted artist who once shook hands with Picasso."

So, on the last shopping day before Christmas, you hasten to the department store. They don't have any rhinestone-studded silk evening stoles. Panic grabs you.

Real Markdown

"But we do have—marked down to $127.49 from $350—a lovely housecoat made of genuine African ostrich feathers," says the salesman. "It's the only one we have left in stock."

"How many did you have to start with?"

"Two," says the honest salesman. "I just bought the other one for my own wife. Couldn't figure out what else to give her."

"Wrap it up. I'll take it with me."

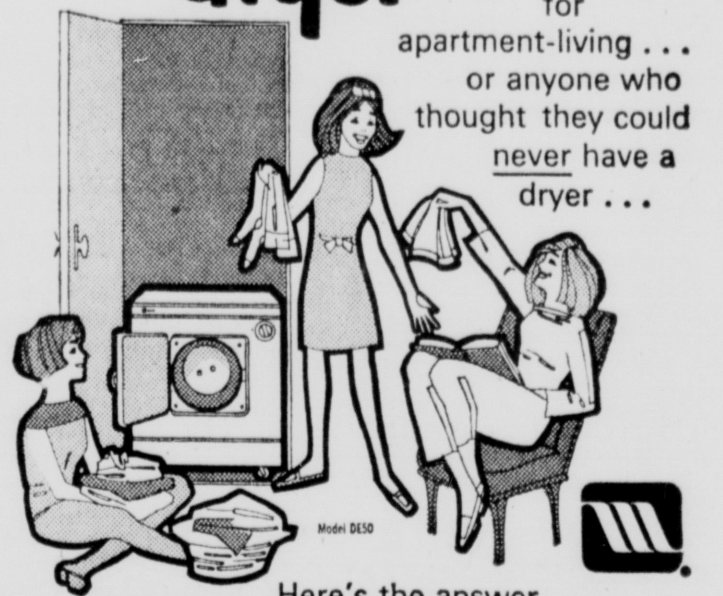

Well, Christmas morning your wife breaks down and cries when she sees her ostrich-feathered housecoat.

"It's the one thing in life I've always wanted," she says, then adds reproachfully: "But you shouldn't have—it looks so terribly expensive."

Along about February when you ask why she isn't wearing it, she answers: "It was beautiful but awfully impractical. I exchanged it for Russian warplanes to bolster a hair dryer and a new set of dishes."

Erie County's 25 Towns Face Tax Increase

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—All of Erie County's 25 towns and three cities will have increased tax rates for 1968 to finance a record high budget of $145.6 million adopted Nov. 28 by the Republican-controlled Board of Supervisors.

The new tax rates were compiled Wednesday by the county Finance Dept. The increases range from a low of $3.04 for Buffalo to a high of $8.95 for suburban Lackawanna. Buffalo will have a tax rate of $20.62 per $1,000 of assessed valuation, while Lackawanna will have the county's highest rate at $59.98 per $1,000.

The budget, which is $21.8 million higher than this year's becomes effective Jan. 1. The reasons for the budget increase, spokesmen have said, are the state's growing medical assistance program and salary raises to county employees.

In Niagara County, meanwhile, the Board of Supervisors adopted Wednesday a record 1968 budget of $26.29 million—$2.4 million higher than this year's. The average tax rate is expected to climb from $15.58 to about $17.75 per $1,000 of assessed real estate valuation.

Vanessa Strips

LONDON (AP) — Svelte British actress Vanessa Redgrave ripped off the top of her dress and danced naked to the waist on the stage of a London theater.

But the audience who shouted "oh" and rushed the stage Wednesday were extras.

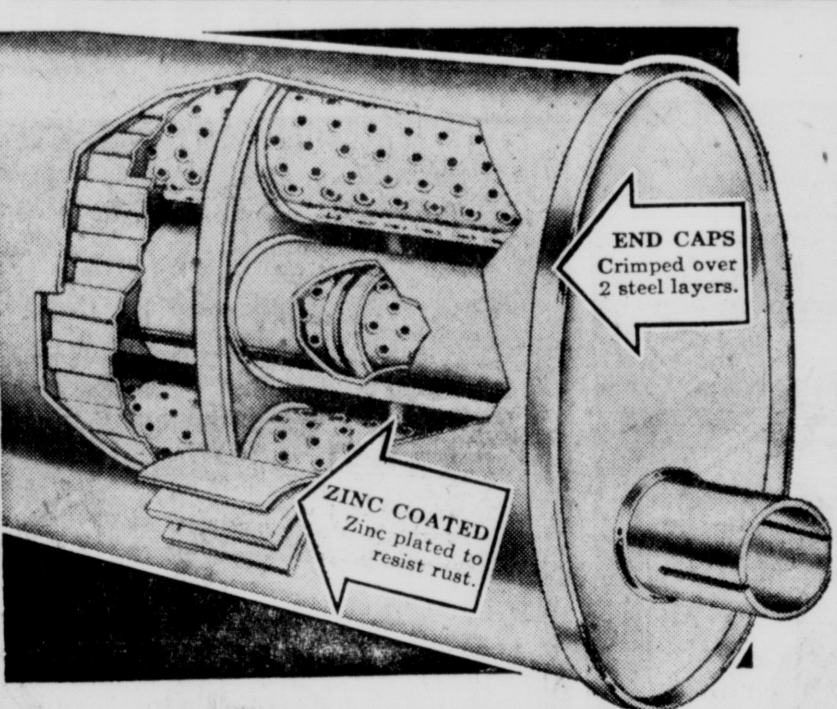

Vanessa, 30, was rehearsing a scene from her new film "Isadora" in which the famed dancer Isadora Duncan startles a New York audience in the 1920s. The scene calls for Vanessa to do a wild dance ending in a defiant half-strip.

"I had no qualms about doing it," said Vanessa later. "I see no shame in my body."

She did the same in the movie "Blowup."

Cut Off Soviet Flow Of Military Equipment

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Royalist reports from Yemen today said the Royalists had cut off the capital city of San'a to prevent Russian military equipment from arriving for the besieged Republican government.

Royalist sources in Beirut in contact with their leaders at home said the road from the Red Sea port of Hodeida to San'a was cut after the Royalist armored forces were going to land at Hodeida.

They said San'a was cut off from all sides and the Royalists were attempting to damage the airport to prevent Russian supplies from arriving by plane.

Egyptian troops have been the chief bulwark of the Yemeni Republicans, but the last of these are scheduled to leave Hodeida Friday, Egypt's Middle East News Agency reported Wednesday from San'a that the Republican government had begun issuing arms to people of the city "to protect the gains of the revolution."

No confirmation was available for any of the reports.

The Royalists earlier this week claimed they had downed a Russian-made MIG jet piloted by a Russian. The Royalists had previously claimed that Russians were fighting for the Republicans but never presented conclusive proof.

One Western source who returned from San'a recently said a team of Soviet technicians had

Erie County's 25 Towns Face Tax Increase

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—All of Erie County's 25 towns and three cities will have increased tax rates for 1968 to finance a record high budget of $143.6 million adopted Nov. 28 by the Republican-controlled Board of Supervisors.

The new tax rates were compiled Wednesday by the county Finance Dept. The increases range from a low of $3.04 for Buffalo to a high of $8.95 for suburban Lackawanna. Buffalo will have a tax rate of $20.62 per $1,000 of assessed valuation, while Lackawanna will have the county's highest rate at $39.98 per $1,000.

The budget, which is $21.8 million higher than this year's becomes effective Jan. 1. The reasons for the budget increase, spokesmen have said, are the state's growing medical assistance program and salary raises to county employees.

In Niagara County, meanwhile, the Board of Supervisors adopted Wednesday a record 1968 budget of $26.29 million—$2.24 million higher than this year's. The average tax rate is expected to climb from $15.58 to about $17.75 per $1,000 of assessed real estate valuation.

Vanessa Strips

LONDON (AP) — Svelte British actress Vanessa Redgrave ripped off the top of her dress and danced naked to the waist on the stage of a London theater.

But the audience who shouted "oh" and rushed the stage Wednesday were extras.

Vanessa, 30, was rehearsing a scene from her new film "Isadora" in which the famed dancer Isadora Duncan startles a New York audience in the 1920s.

The scene calls for Vanessa to do a wild dance ending in a defiant half-strip.

"I had no qualms about doing it," said Vanessa later. "I see no shame in my body."

Major Holding Company Planned by Upstate Banks

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — Three large upstate commercial banks announced Wednesday a plan to form a bank holding company with total assets of $2 billion.

W. Niver Wynkoop, chairman of the board of First Trust & Deposit Co. of Syracuse said the directors of his institution and of the National Commercial Bank and Trust Co. of Albany and the Manufacturers and Traders Trust Co. of Buffalo, had approved the plan to form First Empire State Corp.

Formation of the company is subject to approval by stockholders and state and federal regulatory agencies.

Wynkoop said the company would be the fourth largest in the state and the seventh largest in the nation.

He said that, under the plan, each bank would retain its name and continue under present management.

The banks maintain 142 offices in 82 communities stretching from Plattsburgh in the north through the Hudson and Mohawk valleys and west to Dunkirk.

Frank W. McCabe, chairman of the National Commercial Bank, would serve as board chairman of the holding company, and Charles W. Millard of the Manufacturers and Traders Trust Co. would become president and chief executive officer, Wynkoop would head the executive committee.

Wynkoop said the holding company would acquire substantially all of the presently outstanding shares of each bank.

Says Personnel Untrained

State Narcotic Program Scored

NEW YORK (AP) — A 44-year-old physician, who has spent his professional life treating drug addicts in Harlem, says the State Narcotic Addiction Control Commission's program is "pathetic" and its implementation is terrible.

Dr. Robert W. Baird, who leaves his Fifth Avenue office at night to go to Harlem's HAVEN Clinic, charged the commission is operating "a prison, not a hospital, and besides, they don't know what they're doing."

Untrained

"The most important trouble is that the personnel administering the program aren't trained," Dr. Baird said. "There is no substantial training for the administrators, let alone the workers. They are learning by trial and error. And while they're doing that, many kids will lose their desire to shake the horse (heroin)."

The original program backed by Gov. Rockefeller "is perfect," Dr. Baird said, "but the program as it is actually being conducted is pathetic."

"There is a center I visited where women can't read newspapers or see television. Ridiculous. The addict should be kept in an environment of reality — not be driven from it," the square-faced, balding physician said recently.

He added that the administrator of that center has had only eight months' experience in the treatment of addicts.

Dr. Baird said reception centers have "inmates" clad in pajamas for security and that he had advised officials that the practice demoralizes patients. He also complained about older addicts being kept together with youngsters.

"An administrator told me that the older person would be a mature influence on the youngster," Dr. Baird said. "If I've got it pegged right, the older men will teach the kids things they never knew about coping with a fix."

Would Testify

Dr. Baird added that he would like to testify at a public hearing on the conditions in the narcotics centers operated by the commission.

The testimony of at least one drug addict appears to corroborate some of Dr. Baird's charges.

Jimmy T. has been hooked on drugs since the age of 16. At age 24 he's on the run from the authorities since he escaped from a state-operated narcotics center four months ago. He fled from Manhattan State Hospital two days after he was committed. Previously he had been at Riker's Island treatment center for 12 weeks.

"We didn't do much," said Jimmy, speaking of the Riker's Island facility. "We just sat around all day in pajamas. There weren't enough pajamas to go around so a lot of guys just wore underwear."

Asked about medical care there, Jimmy said: "They caged me on Friday and I didn't see any doctor until Monday. Man, I was bad. No fix, you know. Sick call was every weekday but no doctors were around on the weekend."

Jimmy said he is now under private care and has not taken drugs since his escape from Manhattan State Hospital. "The state program doesn't hospitalize you, it jails you," he added.

Some Farm Earnings Higher

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department reports some types of farms earned more this year than last even though total net farm earnings are down 10 per cent.

Those reported to be making larger incomes in 1967 than 1966 include tobacco farms in the coastal plain of North Carolina, winter wheat farms in the southern Great Plains, Grade A dairy farms in eastern Wisconsin, and Western cattle ranches.

Those listed as making less money this year included large scale cotton farms in the Mississippi Delta, wheat, small grain and livestock farms of the northern Great Plains, and livestock farms in the Midwestern corn belt.

The department gave no analysis of incomes of other type farms in other sections of the country.

The net income—the amount left after deducting costs—of the North Carolina tobacco farms averaged 6 per cent above the 1966 figure. A 7 per cent increase was reported for the winter wheat farms of the southern Plains. The Wisconsin

Grade A dairy farms were estimated to have earned 9 per cent more than last year, and the cattle ranches an increase of 10 per cent.

But the income of the Mississippi Delta cotton farms was said to be down 2 per cent from 1966, the corn belt livestock farms down 15 per cent and the wheat, small grain and livestock farms of the northern Plains down 22 per cent.

Increases in production costs were major factors for the farms whose earnings dropped.

Total net farm income in 1966 was the second highest of

Policy for Army Enlistees

"Home for the Holidays" might well be the title of the Christmas - New Year leave policy announced this week by the U. S. Army Recruiting Command.

According to USAREC officials, enlistees who enter the Army between Dec. 6-20 will be processed at the Armed Forces Examining and Entrance Stations and transferred to Army reception stations. They will then be offered leave and may return home for the holidays. Those young men enlisting between Dec. 21-29 will be offered leave at the Examining and Entrance Stations and will return there for transfer to the reception station on Jan. 3.

Under this program, new enlistees may join more than 200,000 Army trainees who will head for home when training pauses on Dec. 16. Army school classes and training will resume January 2.

Although commanders are required to maintain essential readiness, as many permanent party cadre, instructors, and support personnel as possible will be permitted to go on holiday leave. Some will have leave for Christmas; others will take leave during the New Year period. For those whom military duty requires that they stay on the job during the holiday, extensive programs of holiday activities will be provided. The Army attempts to insure that all its personnel—the new recruit or the senior officer—have a happy holiday season.

Ski Council Will Crown Queen

The new Miss Rip Van Winkle Ski council will be crowned by current queen Miss Charlotte Anzelone, Poughkeepsie, of the Kingston Trail Sweepers Club, Saturday at the Italian Center, 227 Mill Street, Poughkeepsie. Tickets will be available at the door, and music and refreshments will be provided.

President Donald DeKoskie will conduct the next business meeting of the Rip Van Winkle Ski Club at the Elks Club in Newburgh Tuesday, Dec. 12. All ski clubs in Putnam, Dutchess, Orange, Sullivan, Ulster, Delaware, Greene, Columbia and Rockland Counties are invited to attend the meeting.

Arthur Sullivan of the Bellayre Mountain Ski Club announces the first Council ski instructions for alpine class skiers from beginner to expert at Davos Ski Area in Woodridge, Dec. 16 and 17. Peter Martini, certified professional ski instructor, will teach the classes.

Nordic skiers also have a clinic to attend this one at the Dutchess Ski Area on Dec. 16 in Beacon under the direction of Frank Calamari, coach of the West Point ski club.

Rip Van Winkle Ski Council will sponsor its annual junior Racing Camp at Davos Ski Area Dec. 26-28, under the direction of Peter Martini. Any interested persons must apply before Dec. 10. Skiers wishing to participate must be able to make parallel turns.

Anyone interested should contact Peter Martini at the Davos Ski Area in Woodridge before Dec. 10. Others interested in racing during the year should contact the Trailsweepers club or C. J. Goffredi, Kingston.

A group of 132 students from J. Watson Bailey Junior High School seventh grade recently toured the state capitol in Albany.

Accompanied by their teacher Fred Wadnola, the group was conducted on a specially guided tour arranged through the Office of General Services. Students from the State University at Albany acted as guides, furnishing background and information on the many points of interest.

ed in a direct commission in the corps could still apply at the Army Recruiting Station.

Qualified applicants are commissioned as first or second lieutenants before entering the service. On Feb. 6, 1968, the new officers will then begin the 18-week Officer Basic Course at the WAC Center, Fort McClellan, Ala.

This course, designed to bridge the gap between civilian and military life, prepares the trainees for assignment to junior executive positions in fields best suited to their talents and abilities. The curriculum, listing 30 subjects, includes courses in such fields as geopolitics, effective speaking, personnel management, administration, security and intelligence, and Army Organization.

Responsibilities, pay, benefits, and opportunities for promotion are the same for WAC Officers as for their male counterparts. And, as of Nov. 8, 1967, they may compete equally for promotions and may ultimately become generals and admirals. In the words of President Johnson, we may "some day have a female Chief of Staff, or even a Commander-in-Chief."

Young women interested in attending the WAC Officer Basic Course at Fort McClellan in February should contact Sgt. Keene, at the Army Recruiting Station, 640 Broadway, Kingston, or call him as soon as possible.

Gardiner Has Scout Troop

There are 25 boys who belong to Troop 74 in the Town of Gardiner where the Rip Van Winkle Council currently is conducting its annual fund drive.

The troop, which has just affiliated, is sponsored by St. Charles Roman Catholic Church and the Gardiner Reformed Church.

"We're glad to see this new troop," said Oliver Tweedy, the Council president, "because it gives boys in the Town of Gardiner an opportunity to gain valuable Scout training."

Tweedy said the Council fund drive, now in progress, is necessary so new troops like the one in Gardiner can be started.

"We want to move forward and start even other new troops," he said, "but this will be impossible unless we receive the vital support from the public that is so necessary.

Serving as co-chairmen of the Rip Van Winkle Council campaign for 1968 operating funds in the town of Gardiner are Dr. Clifford Hoppstedt and Mrs. Ruth Heider.

5 Red Hook Youths Seized, Still Seek 6th

Five out of six Red Hook youths were arrested yesterday by State Police on warrants issued by Police Justice William Pollard to whom one of the youths gave information concerning larceny at a Rhinebeck laundromat last November. The sixth youth, William Arden Coon of Red Hook, is still at large, Judge Pollard said this morning.

The case arises out of the alleged removal of a light fixture from a West Market Street laundromat on Nov. 8.

Appearing in court yesterday were William Brizzie, Route 199, Red Hook, who pleaded guilty to reckless endangerment and was placed on probation for one year.

John Potts, 126 South Broadway, Red Hook, charged with petit larceny, was sentenced to 30 days in the Dutchess County Jail.

Regina White, Route 199, Red Hook, entered a plea of innocent to petit larceny, was given a conditional discharge and placed on probation, according to Judge Pollard. She was released in her own recognizance.

Jeffery Potts, 125 South Broadway, Red Hook, also entered a plea of innocent and was released in his own recognizance.

Another youth, whose name was not revealed because he is under 16 years of age, had his case referred to Family Court, State Police said.

The case was investigated by Patrolman Walter Schaad,

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The demand for silver for use in industrial, ornamental and medical products has doubled over the output of mines, causing the U.S. government to cut back on the use of silver in coinage, says The World Almanac. Dimes and quarters, once 90 per cent silver, are now minted entirely of copper-nickel alloy, and a half-dollar contains only 40 per cent silver.

Gunsmoke Shows Amazing Life After 12-Season Run

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — For a television series once deemed dead and buried, "Gunsmoke" is showing amazing life.

Earlier this year CBS announced that the veteran Western had run its course and was being put out to pasture. Then the network changed its mind and said the series would come back for its 13th season—on Monday night at 7:30. That seemed to the trade like a death sentence, since the early evening juvenile audience was not likely to take to an adult Western.

"I thought we would lose in the new time slot," admits

Bridge Results

The Glenelg Bridge Club held its regular fractional point game at the Elks Club on Fair Street and played 24 boards in a Mitchell movement.

On the North-South side, Joseph Mautner and Nathan Katatsky of Kingston took first place.

On the East-West side, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest LeFevre of Hurley took top spot.

On the North-South side, second place went to Dr. John Comstock and Donald Thompson of Kingston; third spot was taken by Michael Luni of Tilton and James Cavin of Kingston.

On the East-West side, second place went to Arling Kalleberg of Kingston and Jack Walters of Saugerties; third place was taken by Preston Perlman of Woodstock and Carlton Stone of Kingston.

The Glenelg Bridge Club will hold its regular fractional point game at the Elks Club Friday 7:30. All bridge players may attend.

The fall series was won by Ralph Wesselmann of Shokan, who was presented with a silver bowl by Mrs. Harold Rakov of Kingston in memory of Laddie Wheatcroft.

Award for Burr

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Actor Raymond Burr will be presented the 1967 human relations award of the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith at a dinner tonight.

Burr, who starred in the Perry Mason television series and now has the leading role in the Ironside TV show, has made numerous trips to Vietnam to entertain troops.

U.S. Sen. Joseph D. Tydings, D-Md., will speak at the League's annual dinner.

Tigons and Ligers

Under certain conditions, such as confinement in zoos, tigers have been known to mate with lions. The offspring of these matings are called tigons when the father is a tiger and ligers when the father is a lion, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

"Gunsmoke" producer John Mantley, "At 7:30 the children are supposed to control the set. And we were up against 'The Monkees' and Chuck Connors with animals—Cowboy in Africa."

"I was astonished when the first ratings showed us ahead of the other two, I had hoped to start low and then build. Instead, we started high and have climbed. In one recent rating we were No. 6, and no one could have been more surprised than I."

Mantley, asked to analyze the performance, theorized that perhaps the show is now getting the big city audience.

"The pattern of our ratings on Saturday was always the same," he said. "We were seldom in the top 30 of the 30-city Nielsen. But we leaped up in the national ratings. That meant we had a small urban audience, but a large one among suburban and rural viewers."

"That doesn't seem the case on Monday nights. We seem to get city viewers who found it inconvenient to watch Saturday because they were entertaining or going out."

Mantley believes the quality of "Gunsmoke" has never been higher, largely because the shows have been "heavy Matt." He explained that the shows are categorized as "heavy Matt" or "light Matt," depending on the involvement of Jim Arness, who plays Matt Dillon.

The producer is convinced that public outcry caused CBS to rescind its death sentence on "Gunsmoke." He explained: "In many states our show was still No. 1, and several of the affiliated stations in the Midwest were in open revolt."

With "Gunsmoke" riding high once more, couldn't it continue on and on? "It's doubtful," said Mantley. "It already must have the highest cast cost in television, with five principals, three of them on the show for 13 years. All of them except Amanda Blake come up for renewal next year, and I'm sure Jim will want a lot of money to continue."

NAACP to Hear School Official

James Tobin, assistant superintendent of Kingston Schools, will address the Ulster County Branch of the NAACP at the next meeting, Monday, Dec. 11, 8 p.m. at the New Central Baptist Church, 229 East Strand, Kingston.

Think Factory To Solve Ills

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House will create a "think factory" to find solutions to the nation's future urban problems through a concentration of intellectual and scientific brain power.

The nonprofit corporation, to be called the Institute for Urban Development, will be launched with the help of a recent $10 million grant from the Department of Housing and Urban Renewal. Its future income will come from contracts with federal, local and state agencies.

The research center, patterned after the Rand Corp., will be headed by Irwin Miller, board chairman of Cummins Engines, Columbus, Ind.

When in full operation the staff of social scientists, architects and planners and other specialists will collect information to pinpoint the real problems of the nation's cities and to indicate how they can be solved.

Peace Corps Has Less Applicants

Applications to join the Peace Corps have dropped 30 per cent this year, while applications to Vista, the domestic volunteer agency, are up 37 per cent, spokesmen report.

Richard L. Romero has been appointed director of the Civil Service Commission's equal employment opportunity project succeeding Francis V. Yanak.

President Johnson says he will nominate Lt. Gen. William W. Momyer, a top U.S. Air Force commander in Vietnam, for promotion to full general.

The Project "Gasbuggy" underground nuclear explosion near Farmington, N.M., has been rescheduled for Sunday after a series of postponements due to difficulties with electrical circuits.

Meat Inspection Bill Awaits President's Okay

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has sent to President Johnson legislation he says will guarantee American families that the meat on their tables is safe and fit to eat.

Both houses of Congress completed favorable action on Wednesday on the bill extending federal meat inspection standards to all packing and processing plants.

Up to now, only meat sold in interstate commerce has been federally inspected.

The bill gives the states a minimum of two years to establish federally approved inspection programs for meat produced and sold within their borders. If a state fails to act, the federal government would step in to impose its own standards.

U.S. May Call For Council Meet on Viet

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States is expected to call for a meeting of the U.N. Security Council soon to launch new attempts toward a negotiated settlement of the Vietnam war, informed sources said today.

The sources predicted U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg would relay a request from the White House for a meeting of the 15-nation council some time this month.

A U.S. informant said he assumed that "my boss might come back from Washington with some further information on the timing of the council session."

Goldberg spent Wednesday in Washington for a Cabinet meeting, and it was generally believed that he discussed the Senate resolution adopted last week asking President Johnson put the war before the United Nations.

There was speculation that further U.S. action may have been delayed by differences which have arisen with Saigon over participation of the Communist Viet Cong in any council debate on Vietnam.

The split came into the open after it was learned that the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front had expressed a desire in October to send representatives to the United Nations.

A State Department spokesman referred inquiring newsmen to Goldberg's statement to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on Nov. 2. Goldberg said the United States would vote in favor of the Viet Cong participating in a council meeting on the war.

Ambassador Nguyen Huu-Chi, South Vietnam's observer at the United Nations, called on Secretary General U Thant when he heard of the Viet Cong approach and asserted that his government would object to a "propaganda" visit here by the Viet Cong.

The South Vietnamese Foreign Ministry said earlier that Saigon would "refuse to accept the presence of the National Liberation Front as a separate delegation in any peace talk."

Saigon said the Viet Cong was a creation of the Hanoi government and the United Nations should "forbid the Communists the use of its tribute for such purposes as the propagation of their international schemes."

The Soviet Union, which in 1966 opposed a U.S. resolution before the Security Council seeking a new Geneva conference on Vietnam, remained adamantly opposed to bringing the war before the United Nations.

A match would not burn in a space ship traveling beyond the pull of earth's gravity. Instead of rising, the hot gases would accumulate in a sphere that would put out the flame.

Peace Corps Has Less Applicants

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Applications to join the Peace Corps have dropped 30 per cent this year, while applications to Vista, the domestic volunteer agency, are up 37 per cent, spokesmen report.

Richard L. Romero has been appointed director of the Civil Service Commission's equal employment opportunity project succeeding Francis V. Yanak.

President Johnson says he will nominate Lt. Gen. William W. Momyer, a top U.S. Air Force commander in Vietnam, for promotion to full general.

Meat Inspection Bill Awaits President's Okay

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has sent to President Johnson legislation he says will guarantee American families that the meat on their tables is safe and fit to eat.

Both houses of Congress completed favorable action on Wednesday on the bill extending federal meat inspection standards to all packing and processing plants.

Up to now, only meat sold in interstate commerce has been federally inspected.

The bill gives the states a minimum of two years to establish federally approved inspection programs for meat produced and sold within their borders. If a state fails to act, the federal government would step in to impose its own standards.

Future meetings of the Ulster Co. Branch of the NAACP will feature outstanding speakers on these basic issues.

Members and the public may attend this important meeting.

U.S. May Call For Council Meet on Viet

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States is expected to call for a meeting of the U.N. Security Council soon to launch new attempts toward a negotiated settlement of the Vietnam war, informed sources said today.

The sources predicted U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg would relay a request from the White House for a meeting of the 15-nation council some time this month.

A U.S. informant said he assumed that "my boss might come back from Washington with some further information on the timing of the council session."

Goldberg spent Wednesday in Washington for a Cabinet meeting, and it was generally believed that he discussed the Senate resolution adopted last week asking President Johnson put the war before the United Nations.

There was speculation that further U.S. action may have been delayed by differences which have arisen with Saigon over participation of the Communist Viet Cong in any council debate on Vietnam.

The split came into the open after it was learned that the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front had expressed a desire in October to send representatives to the United Nations.

A State Department spokesman referred inquiring newsmen to Goldberg's statement to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on Nov. 2. Goldberg said the United States would vote in favor of the Viet Cong participating in a council meeting on the war.

Ambassador Nguyen Huu-Chi, South Vietnam's observer at the United Nations, called on Secretary General U Thant when he heard of the Viet Cong approach and asserted that his government would object to a "propaganda" visit here by the Viet Cong.

The South Vietnamese Foreign Ministry said earlier that Saigon would "refuse to accept the presence of the National Liberation Front as a separate delegation in any peace talk."

Salgon said the Viet Cong was a creation of the Hanoi government and the United Nations should "forbid the Communists the use of its tribute for such purposes as the propagation of their international schemes."

The Soviet Union, which in 1966 opposed a U.S. resolution before the Security Council seeking a new Geneva conference on Vietnam, remained adamantly opposed to bringing the war before the United Nations.

A match would not burn in a space ship traveling beyond the borders. If a state fails to act, the federal government would step in to impose its own standards.

Plan Nationwide TV Set Probe For Radiation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Electronics Industries Association has been asked by the U.S. Public Health Service to take part in a nationwide check for possible excessive radiation from TV sets.

The health service said Wednesday an extensive survey of TV sets in Pinellas County, Fla., indicates radiation danger found in some General Electric Co. color television sets may be an industrywide problem.

Excessive radiation from some big screen GE color sets was discovered last July. Since then, the health service said, 112,000 potentially dangerous receivers have been located and corrected. About 9,000 receivers have not been found.

The potential for biological damage from TV-radiation is quite low, said Dr. William H. Stewart, U.S. surgeon general. General Electric said in a statement it would continue cooperation with the health service. GE sets involved were those manufactured between September 1966 and May 1967. No problem has been found with black and white sets.

20,000 Riders Delayed by Fire In Locomotive

NEW YORK (AP) — About 20,000 commuters on the New York Central and New Haven railroads were delayed from one-half to one hour during this morning's rush hour by a fire in a locomotive.

The Bronx Fire Department dispatcher's office said no injuries were reported.

Power was shut off on two southbound tracks at the Woodlawn Station in the Bronx, seven minutes after fire was reported in the fusebox of a New Haven locomotive, a Central spokesman said.

Power was restored on one track at 8:04 a.m. and on the other track at 8:11 a.m., he said.

'Dog Waltz'

According to legend, one of the waltzes in Chopin's Opus 64 acquired the sobriquet of the "Dog Waltz" because it was inspired by the sight of George Sand's dog chasing its own tail.

Driscoll, a member of the Troy Fire Department since 1943, was dead on arrival at St. Mary's Hospital.

B'nai B'rith Women held a meeting Wednesday, Nov. 29, at 8:30 p.m. in Temple Emanuel at which time a program, "Salute to Presidents," was presented as a tribute to the leaders of Sisterhoods of Congregation Agudas Achim, Congregation Ahavath Israel and Temple Emanuel, and Hadasah, the women's Zionist organization.

Miss Pamela Gellen opened the presentation with a medley of Hebrew songs. Representatives of participating organizations included the Mmes. Arthur Landesman, Hadassah; Robert Ronder, Temple Emanuel Sisterhood; Irving Scher, Ahavath Israel Sisterhood; Morton Werba-lowsky, Agudas Achim Sisterhood.

At the business meeting preceding the tribute Mrs. Harvey Kronick, president of Zephaniah

Chapter, familiarized members with the GEM (Greater Emphasis on Membership) membership campaign which is now being conducted in the Hudson Valley. She announced that those who enlist new members into the organization previous to December 10 will be entitled to complimentary tickets to a gala GEM ball at the Granit Hotel, Kerhonkson. New members will also be guests. Tea-for prospective members will be held at the home of the Mmes. Charles Ronder and Robert Ronder at a date to be announced. Mrs. Edwin Kalish is chairman for the Kingston Chapter.

Hanukkah gifts for residents of the Boys' Home and Middletown State Hospital will be purchased with proceeds from the awarding of doll, hand-clothed and donated by Mrs. Sam Schwartzburg.

Mrs. Irving Meyer received recognition for outstanding services to B'nai B'rith Women and Mrs. Stanley Wyman was presented an award for her contribution to Anti-Defamation League work.

Zephaniah Chapter in cooperation with District No. 1 is offering tickets for numerous gifts including trips and color television sets, which will be award-

Doing the Right Thing

By ELIZABETH L. POST of the Emily Post Institute
A MOMENTOUS QUESTION OF JELLY OR JAM

Dear Mrs. Post: A fellow barrister and myself are engaged in a heated controversy over whether or not it is proper to put jelly on meat when the jelly is red and there are some nice hot rolls with butter available, as well as butter plates.

It has always been my understanding that the function of jelly was to remove the foul odors or tastes that might have accumulated over a period of weeks with respect to improperly preserved meat, whereas jam is to be used with breads. The current edition of Emily Post's Etiquette does not shed any light on this very significant controversy. Could you help us?—John B.

Dear Mr. B.: Now I know what momentous problems lawyers argue about in their spare time!

I wonder what the manufacturers of jelly would think of your contention that it is a product intended only to disguise the odor of "over-ripe" meat. The day somebody tells me I can't put grape jelly on my English muffin will be the day I leave the etiquette business.

The next edition of Etiquette, I promise, won't shed any light on this controversy, either. If I were to solve the problem, what would you "barristers" have to argue about?

An Uncle's Wife Must Be An Aunt

Dear Mrs. Post: Would you please settle an argument on the subject of in-laws for me? The question is: Would my husband's brother's wife be a sister-in-law to me? If not, why do the children call her aunt?

Irene: Although your husband's brother's wife is somewhat "once removed," she is still your sister-in-law. Her husband is clearly your brother-in-law and your children's uncle—and an uncle's wife must be an aunt. When one member of a couple is a legitimate in-law, the other takes the corresponding title, even though there is no blood relationship.

Who Gives Engagement Gifts?

Dear Mrs. Post: We are invited to an engagement party out of town. We can't attend, but are we supposed to send a gift or money? My husband says no gifts are given at an engagement party. Please tell us what is proper.—Bertha.

Dear Bertha: Your husband is right. Except for members of the family and very close friends, no one is expected to give an engagement present. (C) 1967, Emily Post Institute (Distributed by Newsday Specials)

Hints from Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:

If you like to play the organ, here's a little hint to help keep the keys, push buttons and stops clean. And if you have ever had to have one cleaned, you'll know how much it costs!

I made a beautiful cushion for the bench and covered it with a piece of velveteen. Since I had some left over, I cut a piece to fit the length of the keyboard and especially the button box.

I leave this strip of velveteen on top of my keyboard whenever no one is playing the organ. This not only keeps the moisture, dust and carbon off the keys (which turns them dark), but keeps the humidity out of the mechanical parts.

I wonder why all pianos have a let-down lid to fit over the keys, yet most organs that I have ever seen don't?

Amelia Harrison

Why didn't you write this hint in five years ago? Think of the repair bills you would have saved us budget-minded housewives. I know—I just had mine cleaned.

I think you're the greatest to come up with this hint. Honest.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

In regard to a recent question about squeaky shoes, I take mine to a repairman who separated the outer sole from the inner one. He opened it about two inches—along one side—then put talcum powder between the two soles and sewed them together again.

I've had no further squeaky trouble with my shoes.

L. H.

Dear Heloise:

During cool weather months we have been caught away from home without a sweater or jacket on unexpected cool evenings.

Now I keep a light wrap for each member of the family in a plastic bag in the trunk of our car. It has saved us from many a chill.

J.

Dear Heloise:

Want to make a hit with bird families with little trouble and no expense?

Remove the pulp from your breakfast grapefruit shell. Puncture two holes half an inch from the top on opposite sides and thread with strong cord to make a hanging basket. Pack tightly with a mixture of bread crumbs, etc., and suspend from a tree branch or roof overhang.

Be sure to store an extra shell in your refrigerator as a ready replacement for you'll need it in a couple of weeks!

Birds love it.

Hints from Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:

If you like to play the organ, here's a little hint to help keep the keys, push buttons and stops clean. And if you have ever had to have one cleaned, you'll know how much it costs! I made a beautiful cushion for the bench and covered it with a piece of velveteen. Since I had some left over, I cut a piece to fit the length of the keyboard and especially the button box.

I leave this strip of velveteen on top of my keyboard whenever no one is playing the organ. This not only keeps the moisture, dust and carbon off the keys (which turns them dark), but keeps the humidity out of the mechanical parts. I wonder why all pianos have a let-down lid to fit over the keys, yet most organs that I have ever seen don't?

UCCCC Wins Again

Though he's only listed at 5-7 on the program, Mike Derrenbacher stands very tall in defense.

Ulster Community College hoopers remained unbeaten with a pulsating, 78-69, win Wednesday at Orange and it was Derrenbacher, coming off the bench, who turned the tide for coach Mike Perry's Senators.

Ty Quill, given his first starting assignment of the season, ran into foul trouble early in the contest and was replaced by Derrenbacher. The ex-Kingston High playmaker was inserted once again in the second half and his defense was a vital factor as the Senators began their Mid-Hudson Conference season on a winning note.

Uhl Scores 24

Jumpin' Joe Uhl, who potted 24 points, and Bill Boines, with 19 points and 18 clutch rebounds, were the other factors in the fourth straight decision for the Senators.

The home side made it close

from start to finish. With big Mike Cuasto and Charlie Chambers hitting from all sides, the losers trailed by only a point, 44-43, at the interim.

A cold spell early in the second half cost Ulster the lead and the home side jumped in front, 52-49. At this point, Perry inserted Derrenbacher into the lineup for the second time and assigned him the rugged task of guarding Chambers.

With the big boy of the Colts held to a solitary field goal the rest of the way, the Senators took over for keeps. Rod Chando's bucket with 2:20 remaining made it a 74-68 contest and Boines and Bill Zilliox converted two foul shots each to clinch matters.

Praise From Perry

"We didn't play a good game, especially on defense. Derrenbacher was outstanding coming off the bench. Until he fouled out late in the game, Mike did a superb job on Chambers," Perry said.

Uhl, who played most of the second half with four fouls, hit

11 times from the floor and added two conversions. Chambers was high with 24 for the Colts, most of them in the first half. Gusato hit for 18 before going out on fouls.

"This was another key play by Derrenbacher. He drew a charge on Cuasto, who was murdering us on both backboards," coach Perry added.

The Senators have another road assignment Saturday at Rockland Community College. Rockland was beaten, 92-82, last night by Sullivan.

pumped in 57 points Wednesday night to lead Niagara to a 114-66 victory over Villa Madonna College of Covington, Ky. He has 98 points in two varsity games.

His 57 points, including 23 field goals, broke two Niagara single game records set by Al Butler, who scored 49 points with 19 field goals in 1959.

Murphy hit for 41 points in Niagara's first game of the season, a losing effort to Long Island University. Niagara is now 1-1.

A Seton Hall rally in the second half fell four points short as visiting Army clung to a 13-point halftime lead to record its first victory of the year.

Mikita Gets Four In Hawk Victory

Chicago's Stan Mikita is giving teammate Bobby Hull a run for the money again as the Black Hawks sprint uphill in the National Hockey League race.

Mikita, the defending NHL scoring king, outgunned Hull four goals to two Wednesday night, leading the Hawks to a 7-2 romp over Pittsburgh that sent them into a fourth-place tie with New York in the East Division.

Minnesota's expansion club played Toronto to a 1-1 standoff, but the tie gave the Maple Leafs a share of the East lead with idle Boston, New York and Detroit battling to a 3-3 deadlock.

St. Mary's Takes Two, CYO Action

St. Mary's Tyros opened the CYO season with a 32-30 come from behind victory over St. Peter's of Rosendale last night at the Marletown school.

St. Mary's led 9-7 at the end of the first quarter and 20-14 at the half. A strong effort by St. Peter's put them ahead 23-22 at the end of the third quarter. Trailing by two with a minute to go, St. Mary's rimmed two quick baskets to win the game.

Gill Williams paced the winners with 12 points, while Hyler Van Wagenen led St. Peter's with 11.

Jumpin' Joe Uhl, who potted 24 points, and Bill Boines, with 19 points and 18 clutch rebounds, were the other factors in the fourth straight victory for the Senators.

The home side made it close from start to finish. With big Mike Cuasto and Charlie Chambers hitting from all sides, the losers trailed by only a point, 44-43, at the interim.

A cold spell early in the second half cost Ulster the lead and the home side jumped in front, 52-49. At this point, Perry inserted Derrenbacher into the lineup for the second time and assigned him the rugged task of guarding Chambers.

With the big boy of the Colts held to a solitary field goal the rest of the way, the Senators took over for keeps. Rod Chando's bucket with 2:20 remaining made it a 74-68 contest and Boines and Bill Zilliox converted two foul shots each to clinch matters.

Praise From Perry

"We didn't play a good game, especially on defense. Derrenbacher was outstanding coming off the bench. Until he fouled out late in the game, Mike did a superb job on Chambers," Perry said.

Uhl, who played most of the second half with four fouls, hit

11 times from the floor and added two conversions. Chambers was high with 24 for the Colts, most of them in the first half. Gusato hit for 18 before going out on fouls.

"This was another key play by Derrenbacher. He drew a charge on Cuasto, who was murdering us on both backboards," coach Perry added.

The Senators have another road assignment Saturday at Rockland Community College. Rockland was beaten, 92-82, last night by Sullivan.

After nine years plus on the Freeman sports beat, memories are many. We have been privileged to be associated with some of the nicest people around, those who make the sports news. We will cherish these memories for many years to come.

MIKE FERRARO'S BONUS SIGNING with the New York Yankees, his rise through the minors and his major league debut in Sept. 1966.

The four-year winning streak of Saugerties High in football, a string that was snapped in Oct. 1964 by Arlington High.

Charlie Jenkins, the 200-pound human torpedo, who scored five touchdowns on runs of 74, 10, 2, 75 and 4 yards and gained 323 yards in 22 carries as White Plains routed Kingston High, 33-14, at Dietz Stadium.

The two-year plus tenure of Wes Westrum as manager of the New York Mets.

Monty Stickles' All-America rating at Notre Dame, his career as a pro with the San Francisco 49ers and his injury this year which might terminate his career.

RICHIE GIANNOTTI AND RUSS TALMADGE of Saugerties High; Hobie Armstrong of Kingston and Gordie Taylor of Rondout Valley, four of the best area high school runners we have seen.

Al Miller's prominent role in the soccer fortunes at New Paltz State and his departure and successful season at Hartwick College.

G. Warren Kias' retirement as athletic director at Kingston High and his testimonial dinner.

Fred Lasher, the former Poughkeepsie High ace, almost pitching the Detroit Tigers to the 1967 American League flag with his superlative relief work.

ULSTER COMMUNITY COLLEGE'S first basketball team and the steady improvement of the Senators, now one of the ranking Junior College powers in the East.

The retirement of Ronnie Scheffel and Frank Koenig as active basketball players and the emergence of Joe Uhl to take their place.

Kingston High School's dominance of the area football scene and its 39-21 triumph at New Rochelle, a win that wasn't even recorded in the sports pages of the former Herald Tribune.

BRIAN BACH'S pitching wizardry in leading Kingston High to a baseball championship.

Joe Uhl's 40 points against Poughkeepsie in a 73-71 KHS win. This was one of the finest high school games we ever saw.

Bob Dillman cracking the 1,000 point club at New Paltz State.

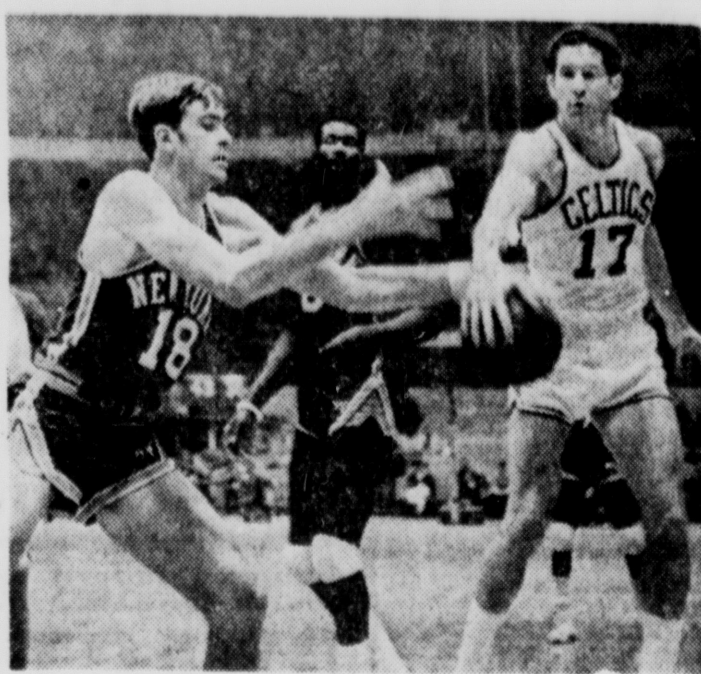

Rondout Valley's first UCAL title with that pulsating 20-15 win over Liberty in football.

SADNESS OVER THE DEATHS of such figures as Al Chase, Port Jervis AD; Russ Cunningham, Kingston High line coach in football; Ed Faller, Middletown AD; C. Everett Stevens, Newburgh Free Academy athletic director; Bill Knott, sportsman and cage official; John Nolan, Saugerties High baseball star; Larry Lewis, Roosevelt Central athletic director; patrolman Al Brown, the unsung hero of those great Kingston High cage teams in the 1960s; Harold Hathaway, the smiling golf coach at KHS; Al Gruner, one of the most respected baseball tutors in the area.

SINCE OUR MAIN COVERAGE concerned Kingston High sports, our choices as outstanding in the major sports over the years are Hobie Armstrong, football; Mike Ferraro, baseball and Joe Uhl, basketball. The best all-around athlete we observed at KHS is Ferraro, an excellent baseball and basketball performer and a solid fullback in his one year of varsity football.

WE WILL NEVER FORGET OUR DAYS AND NIGHTS on the sports beat. The memories will linger forever.

4th Quarter Rallies Feature NBA Tilts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The up-and-coming young firm of Bing, Counts, Jones and Cunningham—specialists in the blazing finish—won courtroom battles all over the staid old National Basketball Association Wednesday night.

Everywhere, nice, quiet, predictable games were moving into the fourth quarter when suddenly things began to happen.

Dave Bing scored 15 points in the final period, leading Detroit to a 135-121 victory over Chicago. Mel Counts pumped in 15 in the fourth quarter as Los Angeles overtook Baltimore 136-125.

Sam Jones got 12 in the fourth period, sparking Boston's 115-113 squeaker over New York. And Billy Cunningham threw in 15 in the final period in Philadelphia's 108-107 comeback over Baltimore.

Closer to Celts

The Pistons got 44 points in the final period and moved within 2½ games of Boston, which leads in the Eastern Division by one-half game over Philadelphia. In all, Bing got 40 points. Bob Boozer topped Chicago with 30.

The Lakers were trailing the Bullets by 16 points with less than 10 minutes to play when they went on a spree, outscoring Baltimore 30-4 in the next 6½ minutes with Counts leading the way. He finished with 28 points and Jerry West had 32. Jack Marin's 27 points led Baltimore.

Jones Gets Hot

The Knicks carried a precarious lead over the Celtics into the opening minutes of the final period when Jones began to hit. He finished with 27 points as did Bailey Howell. Cazzie Russell and Willis Reed had 25 for New York.

The 76ers didn't move ahead for good until with a little more than 10 minutes left and, even after Cunningham's contribution, they had to survive a last-ditch rally by the Royals. Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati topped the scorers with 31 points while Wilt Chamberlain led the 76ers with 29.

Westley Unseld appears headed for his greatest season in college basketball.

The 6-foot-8 All-America for the University of Louisville got the key baskets and the key rebounds in leading the Cardinals to a 57-51 victory over the Kansas Jayhawks Wednesday night.

A sellout 17,000 turned out at Lawrence, Kan., for the battle between the nationally third-ranked Cardinals and the fourth-ranked Jayhawks that headlined a busy night on the college hardwoods.

Unseld threw in 20 points, the same total as his teammate Butch Beard, but it was Unseld's free throw with 6:12 left that put Louisville ahead to stay at 45-44.

"While Beard meant a lot in the stretch," said Louisville Coach John Dromo, "the guy who was the real difference was Unseld. He got the key buckets and particularly the key rebound when we needed it. I thought our zone defense was fabulous in the clutch."

Jo-Jo White's layup put Kansas within 47-46, but as Owens put it "Louisville had the poise and the patience to make the plays when it mattered."

Fourth-ranked North Carolina and ninth-ranked Kentucky, the other teams in The Associated Press Top Ten to see action, enjoyed home court romps.

Larry Miller's 24 points led North Carolina over Kent State despite a 41-point performance by Kent's Doug Grayson. Kentucky overwhelmed Xavier of Ohio 111-76 behind Phil Argen-Rupp's 363rd career victory, but Rupp needs only nine to break the all-time record of 371 held by the retired Phog Allen of Kansas.

Duke, led by Steve Vandenberg's 23 points, crushed Michigan at Ann Arbor 93-72, but West Virginia pulled out a 65-63 home court triumph over St. John's of New York when Jim Lewis tallied three points in the last 48 seconds to erase a 63-62 Redmen lead.

RFK, Romney Say Johnson Changed Reasons for War

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Republican presidential aspirant George Romney, like Democratic Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York, contends the Johnson administration has changed its reasons for pursuing the war in Vietnam.

The Michigan governor told an audience in Manhattan, Kan., Wednesday the administration said in 1965 the United States was fighting to help South Vietnam ward off Communist aggression from the North.

Now, Romney said, the administration talks of "self-interest and national interest" in defending its war policy.

Kennedy made similar remarks in a CBS television interview on Nov. 26.

"The present administration policy will not lead to anything desirable," Romney said. "The Vietnam fail is wagging our global dog."

One of President Johnson's staunch supporters on the war issue, the AFL-CIO, said Vietnam and white backlash is bound to give him trouble in the 1968 election campaign.

The 14-million-member labor federation said in a political analysis released at its convention headquarters in Miami Beach, Fla., that "our military involvement will continue as a disturbing and divisive issue."

It added that "public hostility toward legitimate civil rights progress will almost certainly stiffen as a result of urban violence."

"The luck of the draw is with the conservatives in 1968," the AFL-CIO analysis added.

Another figure in the presidential picture has troubles of a different sort — more than half the people surveyed in one poll have never heard of him.

The Gallup Poll reported it conducted the survey nationwide last month to test public recognition of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy's name. Gallup said only 58 per cent reported ever reading or hearing about the Minnesota Democrat.

Dr. George Gallup, noting the poll was taken before the Senate announced he would enter, said McCarthy's announcement "presumably will increase his score on the recognition scale.

Among the 42 per cent who had heard of McCarthy, President Johnson was favored 2 to 1 to win primaries against the Senator.

In Washington, J. Kenneth Galbraith, chairman of Americans for Democratic Action, derided Johnson for not following through on a proposal by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey for a massive aid program for city slums.

Galbraith served as ambassador to India during President John F. Kennedy's administration and worked briefly for Johnson but strongly opposes the President's Vietnam policy.

In St. Paul, Minn., Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman told a farmers' group he'll accept the blame for falling prices and reduced farm income in a statement that could have political meaning in the nation's farm belt next year.

Freeman said he made a mistake in asking for increased grain production this year. There was a danger of a world grain shortage a year ago, he said, but favorable weather jumped U. S. production 34 per cent above the five-year average and Europe reaped the "harvest of a century."

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market rally continued early Thursday in heavy trading. Gains outnumbered losses by 2 to 1.

The Dow Jones industrial average rose 1.79 to 894.07.

Ability of the average to penetrate the resistance zone of 885-890 Wednesday encouraged those who put store on chart action. In addition, the spreading steel price increases and news that capital spending is on the upbeat this quarter after mild declines earlier this year form a bright backdrop for stock action.

Steels, motors, farm implements, aerospace issues, electronics and a wide variety of assorted issues advanced. Mail order-retails were easy. Copper was mixed.

Fractional gains were the rule among most of the blue chips in the steel, auto and other heavy industries.

Gains of a point or more were made by International Minerals, Schenley, Occidental Petroleum and General Dynamics.

Also up a point or more were Raytheon, MGM, U.S. Smelting and Standard Oil of Indiana.

On Wednesday The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 2 to 218.1.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange.

New Peace Try For School Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate sponsors of the $14.2 billion aid to education bill have apparent White House backing in efforts to overcome Southern objections to federal school desegregation enforcement procedures.

The new peace-making effort, designed to avoid long debate as Congress heads toward final adjournment, contrasted with bitter words exchanged during Wednesday's session.

At one point, the usually mild-mannered Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield told one senator he was "off his rocker."

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., manager of the bill, said an amendment will be offered to provide some assurances sought by Dixie senators.

Morse said the proposal will involve a fixed date, perhaps Aug. 1, by which the Department of Health, Education and Welfare must announce annually whether a school district will receive federal aid. If a cutoff or denial notice were not issued by then, the district would receive the money throughout the school year starting in September.

HEW uses this financial weapon to push for desegregation.

This amendment would substitute for one sponsored by Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., and strongly supported by other Southerners who had made clear its adoption was their price for not blocking passage of the full bill this year.

Russell's proposal would bar HEW from holding up or denying paid applications to any district once the school year has started.

Morse said Russell's plan this would mean a district could drag its feet until the school year had begun and then do anything it pleased about integration for a year.

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., fighting for Russell's amendment, angrily declared orders had come from the White House and HEW to kill all weakening civil rights amendments.

Mansfield and Morse denied this.

But Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, said he could believe Stennis' charge. He said an amendment he had sponsored, which would have cut the total authorization in the bill by $2.4 million top." rocker. No senator in this body billion, was blitized by orders! Mansfield shot back: "The is going to take orders from any which came down from the senator from Ohio is off his mystical mountain top."

Q—Recently, through careful saving, I have accumulated $5,000 in the bank and now wish to take a chance on stocks. Can you give me your opinion on Consolidated Edison? Del Monte? Quaker Oats, and Safeway I would also like to invest in municipals to get tax-free interest. What do you suggest?—J. L.

A—I congratulate you on your careful saving. If $5,000 represents your total cash resources, I would leave at least $2,000 in the bank as a protection against any future emergencies. I regard public utilities as now the cheapest growth group, but I cannot recommend Consolidated Edison which serves a rather static area and faces many problems, including a rather poor public image. I suggest instead Commonwealth Edison of Chicago, which has a better record of rising earnings and dividends. I like Del Monte, but which has made little price progress in recent years. I would also steer clear of Safeway which, like other food chains, has been hurt by rising costs without compensating price increases. In their place I advise Talon, leader in zippers, which has been compiling an excellent record of growth. I do not recommend tax-exempts for a person in a seemingly low tax bracket. I think you may be paying a stiff premium for tax exemption, which is not warranted by your apparent income.

Q—I owned Callahan Lead and Zinc for 30 years and then my company was taken over by Callahan Mining on a share-for-share basis. Why did I not get accumulated dividends for the past 30 years? To whom can I write to get information about this?—R. F.

RFK, Romney Say Johnson Changed Reasons for War

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Republican presidential aspirant George Romney, like Democratic Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York, contends the Johnson administration has changed its reasons for pursuing the war in Vietnam.

The Michigan governor told an audience in Manhattan, Kan., Wednesday the administration said in 1965 the United States was fighting to help South Vietnam ward off Communist aggression from the North.

Now, Romney said, the administration talks of "self-interest and national interest" in defending its war policy.

Kennedy made similar remarks in a CBS television interview on Nov. 26.

"The present administration policy will not lead to anything desirable," Romney said. "The Vietnam tail is wagging our global dog."

One of President Johnson's staunch supporters on the war issue, the AFL-CIO, said Vietnam and white backlash in the wake of Negro riots are bound to give him trouble in the 1968 election campaign.

The 14-million-member labor federation said in a political analysis released at its convention headquarters in Miami Beach, Fla., that "our military involvement will continue as a disturbing and divisive issue."

It added that "public hostility toward legitimate civil rights progress will almost certainly stiffen as a result of urban violence."

"The luck of the draw is with the conservatives in 1968," the AFL-CIO analysis added.

Another figure in the presidential picture has troubles of a different sort — more than half the people surveyed in one poll have never heard of him.

The Gallup Poll reported it conducted the survey nationwide last month to test public recognition of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy's name. Gallup said only 58 per cent reported ever reading or hearing about the Minnesota Democrat.

Galbraith said the vice president's idea "encountered sharp negative applause" from the White House.

Galbraith served as ambassador to India during President John F. Kennedy's administration and worked briefly for Johnson but strongly opposes the President's Vietnam policy.

In St. Paul, Minn., Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman told a farmers' group he'll accept the blame for falling prices and reduced farm income in a statement that could have political meaning in the nation's farm belt next year.

Freeman said he made a mistake in asking for increased grain production this year. There was a danger of a world grain shortage a year ago, he said, but favorable weather jumped U. S. production 34 per cent above the five-year average.

Lynda, Captain Lose Skirmish for Privacy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The president's daughter and her farine fiancé lost a major skirmish in their battle for some privacy — their newly rented house has been discovered in a quiet Arlington, Va., neighborhood.

Sure to Disappoint

The Wednesday disclosure, three days before their wedding, was sure to disappoint Lynda Bird Johnson and Capt. Charles S. Robb.

Robb earlier told reporters he and his bride-to-be had rented a furnished house in the "Washington metropolitan area." But Robb said he preferred not to discuss it any further "just so that we do have some privacy."

"I think you will understand," added the 28-year-old Marine.

cially when neighbors spotted some unusual telephone installation going on at 3556 Valley St.

The house, located in a cul de sac development—one of a cluster of 15 homes, reportedly in about the $50,000 range—is an L-shaped, ranch-style dwelling.

The couple had planned to live there for a brief time until Robb reports March 29 to Camp Pendleton, Calif., on his way to a year's duty in Vietnam.

Saddened by Chef's Death

The First Family was saddened by the death Wednesday night of pastry chef Clement Maggia, 74, who had been in the process of completing a 6-foot tall, 250-pound wedding cake.

Maggia died of a heart attack after dining with his wife and relatives at a Washington hotel. The executive chef and instructor at the Greenbrier resort hotel in White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., had baked the cake there and come to the White House Monday to put the five layers together and apply the elaborate white fondant icing.

Earlier Robb paid his $2 for a marriage license at the District of Columbia marriage license bureau. He went alone but was quickly surrounded by photographers. Robb apologized to the clerk for the resulting commotion.

He and Lynda were supposed to have a free night Wednesday from the night of partying in their honor. They were out somewhere together when the news came of the chef's death and the secret of their house got

Bandits Take $4,000; Beat Store Owner

SHERBURNE, N.Y. (AP) — Three masked bandits severely beat an elderly woman store owner early today and escaped with about $4,000 in cash, State Police said.

Troopers identified the woman as Mrs. Emma Sabar, 72, owner of Sabar's Market in the community southwest of Utica. State Police said the three men apparently waited until the woman had closed her store for the night and entered an upstairs apartment before they bound and gagged her and then beat her to find out where her money was placed.

When she wouldn't say, troopers said, the men ransacked the store and discovered the $4,000. They missed an estimated $12,000 that was placed elsewhere, State Police said.

Police were alerted by phone when a neighbor heard the woman's pleas for help after she had loosened the gag.

They said Mrs. Sabar was taken to Chenango Memorial Hospital in nearby Norwich for treatment of shock and the beating.

Name Bowl Team

A competitive assembly was held at Rondout Valley Central High School on Monday to select the team which will represent the school in the 1968 NCHS Mid-Hudson High School Quiz Bowl. Students who will make up the team are: Michael Denksen, Fred Schreyer and Thomas Becker, seniors, and Karen Knudsen, junior. The alternate is Michael Martin, senior.

Starting date for the interschool competition has been moved ahead and Rondout Valley's initial match against Fallsburgh, originally slated for Jan. 13, has been rescheduled for Saturday, Feb. 17. The contest will be broadcast live at 10 a.m. from the George Washington School, Kingston.

Desai Was Caught

NEW DELHI (AP) — Deputy Prime Minister Morarji Desai told a group of students they should not imitate the West. Among other things, he said they should discard the handshakes and do the Indian "namaskar" with hands folded in front of the body.

The next day, he was photographed shaking hands with Prime Minister Indira Gandhi.

Newspapers were deluged with letters to the editor, criticizing Desai and pointing out that he not only was inconsistent, but also that in India it is bad manners to shake hands with a woman.

Sutton, 18, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Sutton of Old Kings Highway, Lake Katrine.

Completes Basic

The son of Raymond Countyman of Dogwood Street, Kingston, and Mrs. Barbara R. Forman of 36 North Main Street, Ellenville, has been graduated from nine weeks of Navy basic training at the Naval Training Center in Great Lakes, Ill.

Seaman Recruit Richard V. Countryman, 19, studied military subjects in the first weeks of his naval service and he worked under conditions similar to those he will encounter on his first ship or his first shore station.

In making the transition from civilian life to Naval service, he received instruction under Navy petty officers. He studied seamanship, as well as survival techniques, military drill and other subjects.

Completes Basic

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Johnson of 1 Beckley Street, Saugerties, has completed basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

Airman Christopher R. Johnson has been assigned to the Air Force Technical Training Center at Lowry AFB, Colorado, for specialized schooling as an intelligence specialist.

Airman Johnson, a 1962 graduate of Saugerties High School, attended Dutchess Community College, Poughkeepsie.

Driver Charged After Boy Is Struck by Car

Ten-year old Robert O'Reilly is listed in fair condition at Benedictine Hospital after being struck by a car yesterday.

The driver, Kenneth Lang of RD 5, Kingston, was charged by police with driving while intoxicated. This morning Lang pleaded innocent and had his case adjourned until tomorrow.

The defendant told the court he would petition Friday to have his license restored. Operator licenses are automatically suspended while driving intoxicated cases are pending.

Police said the accident occurred around 3:45 p. m. on Lucas Avenue. The youth, who lives at 80 Dunneman Avenue, was allegedly crossing the street when the accident resulted.

Contract Action Subject of Trial

Balance on payment of air conditioning installed back in June 1958 at the Five Nations Club in Kerhonkson is the subject of a contract action on trial in County Court before County Judge Raymond J. Mino and a jury.

General Electric Credit Corporation brings an action against William B. Joyce and another to recover balance on payment for the air conditioning. Joyce contends the equipment was faulty and after making payments over a period of time ceased to pay because the condition was not corrected. Meanwhile, Norman Tennenbaum, installer of the equipment, had assigned the payments to GE Credit Corp.

One of the questions to be settled by the law suit is who is responsible for correcting the alleged defect. Joyce contends the equipment was noisy and vibrated and those conditions have not been corrected.

Ward Ingalsbe appears as trial counsel for GE. Philip Korn appears for Joyce and Abraham Streifer for Tennenbaum.

Davis in Marines

Marine Sergeant Gunnar F. Davis, son of Mrs. Francis Ocker of 81 Green Street, Kingston, is serving with the First Marine Aircraft Wing in the Republic of Vietnam.

In addition to attacking enemy personnel and installations, aircraft of the First Marine Aircraft Wing airlift troops to battle zones, evacuate personnel, fly resupply missions and provide close air support for U. S. Marines and allied ground forces engaged in combat operations.

The unit is also engaged in a civic action program designed to assist the Vietnamese people in completing self-help projects, such as the building of wells, culverts, small bridges and schools. Equipment and materials for the project are made available through the Marine Corps Reserve Civic Action Force. Marines in Vietnam provide the know-how and guide the Vietnamese people in carrying out these projects.

Michaels Serves

Marine Corporal Richard J. Michaels, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace J. Michaels of Malden-on-Hudson, is serving with Marine Fighter Attack Squadron 251, a unit of the Second Marine Aircraft Wing at the Marine Corps Air Station, Beaufort, S. C.

His squadron's primary mission is to destroy enemy aircraft and missiles, attack surface targets, escort helicopters and perform various other air operations.

His group is a major aviation element of the Second Marine Aircraft Wing, which provides air support for Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic units.

Dear Abby

Try 'Talking' Way Back

By ARIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl who will be 16 in 2 months, and my mother finally agreed to let me go in cars alone with boys. Well, to make a long story short, this real neat kid who is 18 asked to take me to a drive-in movie last Friday night, and I was on Cloud Sixteen because I've liked him for a long time. My mother said I had to be in by 12:30.

Well, at exactly 12:22 we pulled up in front of our house and we started to talk, and it was 2:10 before we noticed what time it was. Boy, did we ever say good-night fast.

Abby, I swear to God all we did was talk, but I guess my mother doesn't believe me. Now she's grounded me for a whole month. Do you think this is fair? How can I get my mother to give me another chance?

GROUNDING

DEAR GROUNDED: "In" means "in the house," not "in front of it. I think the penalty is a little too stiff for the "crime," but since you're such a great "talker," maybe you can talk your mother down to 2 weeks.

DEAR ABBY: During World War II I went with a very nice young man, but he went off to the service. When the war was over he returned and called me to resume our friendship. I refused to see him because I was already interested in someone else.

I am now a widow, and he is still a bachelor. How can I let him know that I am available without demeaning myself?

AVAILABLE BUT PROUD
DEAR AVAILABLE: The ideal way would be to have a mutual friend get the news of your availability to him. If you have no mutual friend, send the gentleman a Christmas card, bearing your name only. If he doesn't rush back to your empty arms, don't blame him. Maybe it's his turn to be proud.

DEAR ABBY: A few years ago I clipped a little poem about "dirty dishes" out of your column, had it framed and hung it over my sink. Well, I just had my kitchen redecorated and the painters took down everything, and when it came time to put things up again, I couldn't find that little framed poem. I am just heartsick because I used to look at it so often and it gave me a real lift. Will you be an angel and send it again? I will buy another frame for it if you do. Thank you, Abby.

SANTA ANA READER

DEAR READER: Here's the verse:
"Thank God for dirty dishes,
They have a tale to tell;
While other folks go hungry,
We're eating very well.
With Home and Health and Happiness
We shouldn't want to fuss,
For by this stack of evidence,
God's very good to us."

CONFIDENTIAL TO "Nitty Gritty": Since you asked for my opinion: I would like to see the girls wear their dresses a little longer and the boys wear their hair a little shorter.

If you want to puzzle most any city youngster today, get a piece of coal, somehow, and ask him what it is.

Looking at his ash tray, we'd say what our pipe-loving colleague smokes most of is matches.

Some folks have nuts at the table every holiday, while others don't invite the relatives.

Timing for Tea Bag

PRATT, Kan. (AP) — Dr. F. P. Wolff and Bruce Benson have earned a reputation as clock watchers during meetings of the Pratt Junior College Board of Trustees.

It's customary to provide the trustees with coffee during their meetings. However, Dr. Wolff and Benson prefer tea and in the interests of economy they share the same tea bag.

Their fellow trustees say the race to get the bag first gets rather involved if not scientific.

The angry prisoner, a man who did not respect authority was warned by the warden that if his incorrigible behavior continued, the penalty would be severe. The incorrigible student, whose actions disrupted the school for weeks, was permanently expelled by the Board of Education. The Army captain warned all of the new troops that incorrigible draftees would find themselves in the base stockade if they did not conform to military regulations.

Superior Programs Conflict

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP, Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — In "Dear Friends" Wednesday night, playwright Reginald Rose had some adult, incisive observations about people and marriage. As one of the CBS "Playhouse" series, it glittered with excellent performances by an able cast.

For part of the same period, Jack Paar on NBC was presiding over an extremely funny, ingenious hour consisting primarily of photogenic mishaps.

The conflict between two superior programs in very different moods was in deed unfortunate.

"Dear Friends," a two-hour program, centered on a gathering of four married couples, close friends for years, who were ostensibly gathering to try to bring together one pair who had decided to separate.

Slim Faces Crumble
At the beginning, it appeared that three couples had fine, substantial marriages, but as the liquor flowed and the talk became more emotional and frank, the slim facades crumbled.

Rose told the real stories behind the masks by using a flashback method. He started with the separated couple, played with dignity by Hope Lange and James Daly. Their problem after 15 years of marriage and two children, was quite simply that, as the husband put it, "we don't interest each other any more, we're too... familiar, I guess."

Their friends, while still together, had much worse problems. One wife was insanely jealous of her husband—and with good reason, it turned out. Another couple was concerned and ashamed, the fact that they just didn't want children, and preferred to have the world think they could not have them. A third marriage was a sham because the wife had once been faithless and her husband knew it.

Pernell Roberts and Rosemary Harris were fine as the boorish philandering husband and his tense wife, David Wayne and Anne Jackson played the childless couple convincingly. Eli Wallach and Patricia Barry were outstanding as the husband whose betrayal still rankled and his troubled wife.

The stripping away of pretense and facing some truths seemed to have a healing effect. At the end there seemed to be some hope for the future of all four couples. It made interesting viewing.

Paar, Amusing Hour
Jack Paar patched together an enormous number of bits from old news reels and some television films that never made the small screens, added some appropriate background music and a droll commentary. It was a most amusing hour.

One section was devoted to falls. Soupy Sales once tried to define humor by saying that when somebody falls down and doesn't get up, it's not funny.

but when somebody falls down, smash a bottle of champagne and does get up, it's funny. All of Paar's fallers got up and it was funny, indeed.

Another sequence, culled from television archives, showed frustrated broadcasters trying to read their reports on assorted scenes of action but being constantly interrupted by people walking in front of the camera. There was also the hilarious newsreel showing Mrs. Harry S. avoid conflicts. It might be well Truman vainly attempting to revive the idea.

Superior Programs Conflict

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — In "Dear Friends," Wednesday night, playwright Reginald Rose had some adult, incisive observations about people and marriage. As one of the CBS "Playhouse" series, it glittered with excellent performances by an able cast.

For part of the same period, Jack Paar on NBC was presiding over an extremely funny, ingenious hour consisting primarily of photogenic mishaps.

The conflict between two superior programs in very different moods was in deed unfortunate.

"Dear Friends," a two-hour program, centered on a gathering of four married couples, close friends for years, who were ostensibly gathering to try to bring together one pair who had decided to separate.

Slim Faces Crumble
At the beginning, it appeared that three couples had fine, substantial marriages, but as the liquor flowed and the talk became more emotional and frank, the slim facades crumbled.

Rose told the real stories behind the masks by using a flashback method. He started with the separated couple, played with dignity by Hope Lange and James Daly. Their problem after 15 years of marriage and two children, was quite simply that the husband put it "we don't interest each other any more, we're too... familiar, I guess."

Their friends, while still together, had much worse problems. One wife was insanely jealous of her husband and with good reason, it turned out. Another couple was concealing, ashamed, the fact that they just didn't want children, and preferred to have the world think they could not have them. A third marriage was a sham because the wife had once been faithful and her husband knew it.

Pernell Roberts and Rosemary Harris were fine as the boorish philandering husband and his tense wife, David Wayne and Anne Jackson played the childless couple convincingly. Eli Wallach and Patricia Barry were outstanding as the husband whose betrayal still rankled and his troubled wife.

The stripping away of pretense and facing some truths seemed to have a healing effect. At the end there seemed to be some hope for the future of all four couples. It made interesting viewing.

Paar, Amusing Hour

Jack Paar patched together an enormous number of bits from old news reels and some television films that never made the small screens, added some appropriate background music and a droll commentary. It was a most amusing hour.

One section was devoted to falls. Soupy Sales once tried to define humor by saying that when somebody falls down and doesn't get up, it's not funny.

but when somebody falls down, smash a bottle of champagne and does get up, it's funny. All over the bow of a ship. The research for the show must have been enormous, but the selections were great and the pace was good.

Conflicts like Wednesday night's are not often found, but they do seem unnecessary. The president of ABC, Thomas Moore once suggested a central registry for special programs to newsreel showing Mrs. Harry S. avoid conflicts. It might be well Truman vainly attempting to revive the idea.

Congress Adjournment Late Next Week Rests With Antipoverty, Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Only the possibility of last-minute disputes over antipoverty and foreign aid bills appears threatening plans to adjourn Congress by the end of next week.

A controversial meat inspection measure cleared both houses Wednesday and leaders expect action before adjournment on such major bills as Social Security benefit increases, hikes in postal rates and federal pay, and perhaps elementary and secondary education. Left behind until next year in the drive for adjournment are such bills as interest disclosure, higher education, crime prevention, civil rights and President Johnson's proposed 10 per cent income tax surcharge.

In a move related to the tax proposal, Senate House conferees finally agreed late Wednesday on a proposal aimed at cutting planned federal spending by some $4.1 billion this year. The spending cut is attached to a normally routine measure to keep agencies going which have not received their annual appropriations.

Rep. Frank T. Bow, R-Ohio, said he will try to increase the spending cut to $5.7 billion. Expected approval of the measure next week will mean an end to the threat of payless paydays for government workers in the Peace Corps, Agency for International Development and Office of Economic Opportunity.

Speaker John W. McCormack told a news conference Wednesday he thinks a Dec. 15 adjournment is possible, and Democratic Leader Carl B. Albert told plauding members later. "We are looking forward and hoping we will be able to adjourn the Congress late next week."

Albert also announced the second session of the 90th Congress would start Jan. 15. Both houses will have to approve the Jan. 15 date since the Constitution requires they convene each year on Jan. 3.

Chairman George H. Mahon, D-Tex., of the Appropriations Committee won consent to bring up the year's final appropriation bill on Tuesday.

Most of this money will run the antipoverty agency.

A compromise antipoverty authorization bill, approved by Senate-House conferees Tuesday, contains a $1.98 billion ceiling for this year. That measure

Tightens Winthrop's Security

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas State Police Director Lynn A. Davis got out of jail Wednesday and tightened the secrecy surrounding the alleged plot to assassinate Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller.

The Arkansas Supreme Court voted 6-1 to free Davis, who was jailed Tuesday after being held in contempt of court for refusing to answer questions concerning the source of information that led to gambling raids here Sept. 9.

The high court agreed to release him without bond, pending a review of the proceedings when Davis appeared before Circuit Judge William J. Kirby. Davis had refused to tell Kirby and the Pulaski County grand jury the name of a confidential informant, contending that it would jeopardize his informant's life or property. The grand jury is investigating gambling.

The Supreme Court gave Davis' attorneys, furnished by Rockefeller, 10 days in which to file a brief explaining why the contempt citation should be quashed.

Shortly after his release, Davis was questioned about purported plot against Rockefeller. He answered each query with a firm, "No comment."

Rockefeller confirmed at a news conference later in the day that he was aware of the alleged assassination plot and appeared ready to tell newsmen some details. He refrained after an aide cautioned him that Davis had declined comment.

Rockefeller had just been asked whether the purported plot had sprung from a recent crackdown on gambling.

It was learned from unofficial sources, but confirmed by no one in authority, that Zakar Garoogian, 34, a central figure in the investigation, had been approached by gambling interests who suggested sabotaging one of Rockefeller's four private planes.

Garoogian, identified as a drifter being held in connection with the robbery of a soft drink bottling firm at San Angelo, Tex., was missing from his cell Wednesday and his whereabouts were undisclosed.

The San Angelo Standard-Times, which published the first news on the investigation, reported that Garoogian had been quoted by "well informed sources" as saying that he had information about a plan to kill Rockefeller.

The millionaire Republican, a younger brother of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said he had been told Sunday of the "basic facts" in the case.

Asked if he considered the alleged threat serious, he said, "The FBI is not inclined to go off half-cocked."
